Location & Local Information

With amazing sea-views from its hillside position, it's just a 10-minute (700m) walk down the hill to the coast where you will find restaurants and a sandy beach, Aiguebelle, with beautiful clear water. A cycle path runs from the beach to nearby Cavaliere where you will find a great array of watersports.

All along this coastline there is a good choice of sandy family friendly beaches and hidden coves such as nearby La Fossette and Plage du Rayol as well as beautiful spots further east such as Gigaro Beach and the six kilometres of La Croix Valmer coastline where you will find some stunning walks following the sea surrounded by diverse flora and fauna.

Le Lavandou (6km) is a popular seaside resort with lots of activities plus an international yacht marina which also features fishing boats still bringing in their catch of the day; don't miss the fish market every morning in decent weather! You'll find lots of nightlife in the summer months when the town comes alive with casinos, bars and night clubs but if you're looking for a more laid back approach there are plenty of good restaurants and cafes. Head to the weekly Farmer's market on a Thursday morning to pick up some lovely local produce.

Other outdoor activities in the region include tennis, golf, mini-golf, horse-riding, go-karting, polo and an outdoor cinema in the summer months.

Head inland to the delightful Bormes-les-Mimosas (8km), a little gem in the hills, well-known for being full of colourful flowers, pretty stone walled houses and a quiet ambience of village life.

Other idyllic Provençal villages such include medieval Grimaud (30km) which stands out for its flower filled cobbled streets, ancient churches and stunning views, Gassin (26km), Ramatuelle (30km) and La Môle (25km), a paradise for walkers with some beautiful trails through the stunning countryside.

Fashionable Saint-Tropez (35km) is just a 50-minute drive, or in the summer you can beat the traffic, park in Port Grimaud (30km) and take the ferry across from there during the day. Saint-Tropez is famous for its winding medieval streets, traditional pastel-painted fishermen's cottages, boutiques and restaurants and the port with fishing boats moored alongside luxurious yachts.

Those who enjoy the glitz and glamour must visit Pampelonne Beach and its various beach restaurants including the exclusive Club 55, popular with celebrities as well as visitors.
