Location & Local Information

Puerto Calero is nestled on the south-west coast of Lanzarote, only ten kilometres from Arrecife airport and twenty kilometres from the island's capital.

Villa Estebana enjoys the ideal blend of a tranquil location, yet is just a five-minute stroll along the elegant promenade to the cosmopolitan marina with its array of designer boutiques, restaurants, cafes and buzzing cocktail bars. The marina offers ample potential to stroll, look at fabulous boats and soak up the luxury atmosphere.

Puerto Calero is an excellent base for some water-based activities, such as the Catlanza catamaran trips, submarine excursions and sport-fishing boat trips. Some diving schools are operating from the marina which offers instruction and guided dives from beginner level to advanced.

This exclusive marina development is only a three-kilometre coastal walk to the main resort town of Puerto del Carmen, which is also where the closest beach is.

The Canary Islands are known for their year-round temperate climates, while Lanzarote is famous for its spectacular volcanic landscapes. The Timanfaya National Park offers unique moon-like terrain and is one of the reasons the island was declared a Unesco Biosphere Reserve. The main artistic legacy of the island is the visionary artist César Manrique whose architectural influence is evident all over the island.
