Overview

Villa Celestina is situated on a typical Algarve farm, located on a hilltop with desirable, sweeping views over the whole coast of the Algarve between Vilamoura and Lagos. The location is perfect for those wanting to escape everyday life and truly relax in the comfort of their own villa.

The property has been carefully and lovingly restored from an old country house dating from the late nineteenth century. The restoration plan maintained the original architectural features, giving Villa Celestina a relaxed, country style feel. The ambience is very homely and comfortable, so you can settle in from the second you walk in the door. The eight-bedroom villa is spread throughout two houses. In the first house, on the ground floor there is a well-equipped kitchen as well as two twin bedrooms with a bathroom, the first floor features a twin bedroom and a double bedroom both of which are en-suite. The second house, on the ground floor there is a comfortable lounge as well as two double bedrooms and one twin room as well as two bathrooms. The first floor features a further twin bedroom as well as a single bed located in the annex, ideal for children.

The outside of this property makes the most of the location, with the charm and character of the property and being flanked by almond, orange and carob trees the relaxed atmosphere continues. If al-fresco dining is your thing, then there is a terrace perfect for those late evening summer meals. The private swimming pool is the ideal spot for cooling off in the warm climate. There is also an outside children's play area and gardens, making this property ideal for a family holiday away from home. There is plenty of space to spend time together socialising as well as finding those important moments alone to read your book or top up your tan. Villa Celestina offers something for everyone.
