

Trulli Silvana

Region: Puglia Sleeps: 6

Overview

There's something magical about staying in a trullo house - whether it's the iconic conical roofs, the cosy, often rustic interiors, the history, or the fact that Puglia is the only place you'll find these fascinating properties.

Trulli Silvana is no exception! Built 400 years ago, it has been beautifully restored and bought up to date with simple and elegant interiors, in keeping with the surrounding picturesque whitewashed towns and cities.

The open-plan lounge and dining areas, connected by open archways, are light, spacious and whitewashed with touches of dark wood furnishings and rustic chic touches. Yet, the spaces maintain a homely atmosphere, which are cosy and intimate. The separate kitchen is there to whip up a delightful Puglian feast - just don't forget the orecchiette or 'little ears' pasta - a local speciality.

Choose from three beautiful bedrooms with stylish bedsteads, decorative tiled floors and again simple whitewashed walls. There is a fourth lounge area that can also be made into a bedroom if required. Fancy a soak after all that sunbathing and swimming out in the Italian sun?

Make your way to the chic bathrooms with muted grey tiles and white walls.

Step outside and you won't be disappointed. Pretty gardens, stone pathways, lawns and sun loungers surround a private swimming pool where you can fully appreciate the Puglian countryside. And if that isn't enough, the welcoming host provides yummy local goods, including delicious extra virgin olive oil, taralli and friselle (local snacks) for you to fully enjoy the experience.

If you can pull yourself away from this alluring holiday home, head out to the stunning cities in the region including Cisternino, Locorotondo, Ostuni and the UNESCO World Heritage site of Alberobello - famous for its number of trulli houses, which 'truly' is a spectacular sight to behold.
