

Casa Fiastrone

Region: Le Marche Sleeps: 14

Overview

This glorious country house in the depths of the Italian countryside, set against a breath-taking backdrop of the magnificent Sibillini Mountains, offers a superb holiday-home full of comfort, beauty and invigorating views.

A winding country lane delivers you to the front door of this charming home, weaving its way through the foothills of the Apennine mountain range in a whirl of old oak forests and deep green fields. The living areas are delightfully spacious and airy, with classic open doorways and large wooden-framed windows. There is a casual seating area with two comfortable sofas around a large fireplace, perfect for gathering the group on the cooler winter evenings. A long dining table seating up to 14 sits alongside the kitchen, with room for everyone to feast together. A second dining table can be found on the veranda, where you can enjoy a refreshing alfresco meal in the clean, crisp country air. The kitchen is all any budding chef could dream of, with a fantastic set of equipment and even a large central island creating plenty of space for all to cook up a storm!

Upstairs, the six fabulous bedrooms all possess their delicate charm. On the first floor, all four bedrooms enjoy ensuite facilities, while on the second floor there is one bathroom shared between the two bedrooms, as well as a children's den area – ideal for families! There is also a cot available for those travelling with very young children. The annexe, with a separate kitchen, a ensuite double bedroom and living area and private entrance, is perfect for those seeking a little more privacy and is also suitable for those with disabilities.

The exterior facilities are undoubtedly a highlight of the wonderful villa. 1.5 hectares of private land provide the perfect space for all to explore, from energetic children to those looking for a calming stroll in the warm glow of the evening. The shimmering private pool is an idyllic spot in which to switch off and enjoy only the tranquil sounds of the beautiful Le Marche countryside. Fire up the barbeque and get the party started!

Location & Local Information

Just 1km from the local village and a stone's throw from hiking, biking, horse-riding and many more adventure opportunities, you could not be better placed to appreciate the landscape for which Italy is famous! Shops, bars, supermarkets and of course wine-tasting are within a short drive of the property.

Sitting low in the foothills of the Central Apennines, the 'Wild Heart of Italy', Casa Fiastrone is in the perfect location for nature-lovers and active groups. Depart from the front door and make your own adventures through the fragrant, winding valley and along the mountain paths. Each turn will bring you to a new experience, perhaps a medieval hamlet or a surprise panorama over the hills, as you delve deeper into the history and beauty of Italy's most glorious natural landscape.

At the junction where Le Marche, Emilia-Romagna, Umbria and Tuscany meet, four of Italy's exquisite central regions, the diverse natural landscape encompasses sandy coves and limestone cliffs on the coastline and olive groves and vineyards inland. Medieval cities and villages dissect a vibrant, diverse countryside sprinkled with fortified hilltop settlements, rich in history and modern wonders alike.

Such a perfect location between four of Italy's most fascinating regions ensures an ideal base for exploring central Italy and the delicate charm of the 'birthplace of Western society'. Experience not only the rich history and culture but of course the gastronomy for which the Italian's are famous! Tuscany is of course a famous wine-producing region and Emilia-Romagna is in fact the birthplace of balsamic vinegar, while this central region is famous for its use of pork products in cooking and of course the coastal regions are famous for their fish!

Italy is in fact home to the greatest number of UNESCO World Heritage Sites in the world. With such an ideal central location, you couldn't be better placed to get out and explore some of these breath-taking sites, with world-famous art, monuments and historical sites dispersed throughout the country! More modern delights, including its thriving fashion industry and famous luxury sports cars and motorbikes, as well as sublime natural wonders, including the Alps and Apennines and the extensive captivating coastline, put Italy a cut above the rest.

What Oliver loves...

- Settle in to one of the many sun loungers on the poolside and enjoy a view to the Sibillini Mountains National Park in the distance
- The cosy living areas are the perfect place to relax after a day exploring the area
- With five en-suite, utterly delightful bedrooms and even a totally separate annexe cottage, you can ensure maximum comfort and privacy throughout your stay

What you should know...

- Naturally the villa is remote, which is very popular with those seeking to escape the hectic action of modern life, but might not suit those who like to be in the thick of it, with few entertainment facilities nearby
- Attentive, yet extremely discrete owners live in a house nearby and are at hand for rental assistance and advice on local amenities
- While the annexe has a bathroom suitable for a wheelchair, the main building does not have disabled access
- The house is strictly non-smoking inside
