Tróia Beach is the perfect place to take the family for a day out by the sea, as the waters are calm and clear and ideal for swimming. The sands are immaculate and the views of both the ocean and Sado River are stunning. Guests can enjoy activities such as windsurfing and snorkelling, or simply just relax whilst the children play on the beach. It is also possible to take a boat trip out to try and spot the pod of dolphins that are known to congregate in the area.

Tróia is also a great location to eat delicious fresh fish, trying your hand at golf on the Tróia golf course (one of the best golf courses in Europe) or seeing the peninsula's Roman Ruins which date all the way back to the 1st Century.

Villa Loula is only 10km from the rice-farming village of Comporta which is widely regarded as a great discreet escape for holidaymakers who want true peace and quiet, with only one quaint little beach bar that provides a much-needed watering hole. Situated on the Alentejo coast, Comporta is home to a rice museum, that represents the region's history with the food. The museum building itself was previously a rice factory before being restored in 2006 and today is a haven of great food available for visitors to try; savoury rice plates, fresh fish and meat, delectable desserts and fine wines.

Lisbon itself is a vibrant and colourful city with a fascinating history; the town is rich with museums, monuments and a lively waterfront with bars and many restaurants showcasing a blend of traditional and contemporary architecture.
