

Villa Pasha

Region: Bodrum Sleeps: 10

Overview

Villa Pasha is an undeniably splendid holiday residence that exudes the grandeur reminiscent of a stately manor. Boasting five opulent bedrooms, a generously proportioned layout, and expansive grounds, this luxury stone-built villa, nestled in the mountain village of Dagbelen near Bodrum on Turkey's southwest coast, offers a serene and secluded retreat. From its peaceful locale, it boasts awe-inspiring vistas of a charming valley, with the mesmerising blue Aegean Sea gracefully merging with the horizon.

As you meander down the cypress-lined driveway, commencing at an ancient water reservoir, the imposing main entrance of the villa extends a gracious welcome. The front of the estate features a pebble garden adorned with clusters of cacti, crepe myrtle, and Erythrina. Towards the rear, a soft grassy lawn leads to the infinity pool, flanked by sun loungers, providing a tranquil space for relaxation. The encompassing landscape showcases diligently tended natural rock formations and vibrant flora, including pink bougainvillea, gazanias, and succulents.

Two verandas offer shaded spots for repose, and numerous areas beckon for leisurely moments. Within the villa, the interior décor enchants with warm hues of browns and reds, embellished with sumptuous English and French furnishings. Traditional Turkish carpets with intricate patterns and abstract paintings contribute to the villa's distinct allure. The living room, dining room, and kitchen exude an air of grandeur, featuring an oak dining table and antique pieces. Whether you intend to host guests or dine in, the traditional Tuscan kitchen is fully equipped to cater to your requirements.

Moreover, Villa Pasha provides additional spaces for relaxation and recreation, including a family area and study, perfect for unwinding or immersing oneself in a good book. For those in pursuit of amusement, a well-appointed games room awaits, enticing with friendly competitions over a game of billiards. Alternatively, you can embrace tranquillity in the Finnish sauna, allowing your cares to dissipate.

Villa Pasha epitomises luxury and refinement, inviting guests to immerse themselves in a world of opulence and serenity. Its stunning environs, elegant interiors, and comprehensive amenities create an unforgettable retreat for those seeking an extraordinary holiday experience.

Location & Local Information

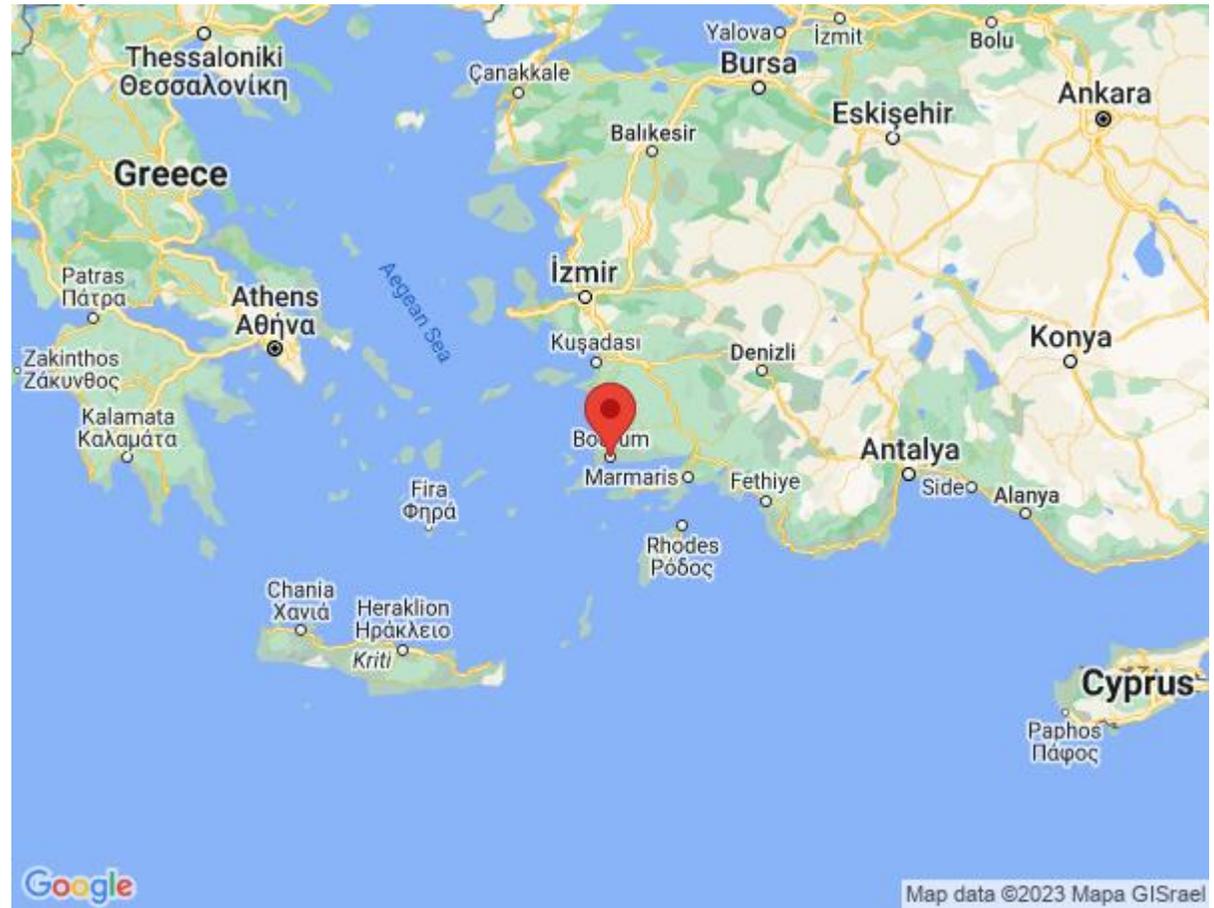

Villa Pasha boasts an ideal location within the mountain village of Dagbelen, just a stone's throw from Yalikhavak in Bodrum. Surrounded by breathtaking natural beauty, it's a favoured spot for avid walkers and hikers. The northern horizon is dominated by a pine forest and a striking peak, lending a dramatic backdrop to the village. Dagbelen lies 8 kilometres to the south of Yalikhavak, renowned for its marina and inviting beaches, including the popular Yalikhavak Beach. Here, you'll also discover local shops and supermarkets, perfect for procuring fresh produce, as well as an array of top-tier restaurants and cafes for dining out.

In close proximity to Yalikhavak lies the Kudur Peninsula, where you'll find astonishing rock caves that offer panoramic coastal vistas. The hills surrounding Yalikhavak are also ripe for exploration, featuring a cluster of ancient stone windmills. A mere 30-minute drive from Yalikhavak takes you to the heart of Bodrum, a vibrant city that boasts a delightful medley of attractions, from a picturesque marina to ancient historical sites and charming boutique shops. Should you seek a traditional shopping experience, you can peruse Bodrum's farmer markets, with various hamlets on the peninsula hosting stalls selling everything from fresh produce to handcrafted rugs and clothing, each day of the week. As the sun dips below the horizon, the city comes alive with live music, and an abundance of restaurants, bars, and clubs await your enjoyment.

For a dose of history and culture, the most prominent ancient site in Bodrum is the castle of St. Peter, dating back to the Knights of St. John. The theatre, perched on the hillside overlooking the city, is also a worthy visit, constructed during the Hellenistic age. Sports enthusiasts will appreciate the presence of an 18-hole golf course in the Yakakoy valley, alongside tennis courts scattered across the peninsula. There are ample opportunities to partake in water sports such as sea kayaking, scuba diving, and parasailing for those with an adventurous spirit.

What we love

- The extravagant opulence of this villa – think green-felted pool table, Finnish sauna and Jacuzzi bath tub. Oh, and five spacious bedrooms, beautiful landscaped grounds and a large outdoor infinity pool.
- Magnificent views of the valley and glistening Aegean sea. See if you can spot the Greek island of Kos and the tip of Knidos peninsula in the distance.
- The farmhouse style kitchen will bring out the inner chef in you!
- A Cypress studded driveway leads to the main entrance of this stone built villa.
- The pool uses no chlorine and has a salinity level similar to teardrops, leaving your skin silky soft.
- Step inside Villa Karya's Pilates / Yoga studio and you'll find yourself in a haven

What you should know...

- Located in the quiet mountain village of Dagbelen, the villa is a little off the beaten track.
