

Chester Place

Region: Knightsbridge & Belgravia Sleeps: 8

Overview

Chester Place is an artfully executed home, finished with panache and designer flair, blending classically handsome original architecture with playful verve and eccentric twists!

This sumptuous home offers regal proportions and is infused with natural daylight.

The living space fuses opulent chandeliers and ornate fireplace with bright pops of colour and plush velvet upholstery, jostling alongside contemporary art and sleek grand piano. This is a characterful home, finessed with charisma and a bold yet fitting design aesthetic, suitable for the proportions.

Original features, lavish fabrics and extravagantly sized polished brass mirrors and antique furnishings offer a debonair feel, whilst guests will have ample space to recline and unwind in stylish comfort, away from the bustle of the crowds.

The kitchen, in contrast, is a sleek and minimal affair of industrial greys and slick white-washed contemporary style, with a stunning atrium-style glass roof and chandelier. Seamlessly tasteful, these spaces flow effortlessly into one another. The modern, glossy breakfast bar and stools are ideal for informal dining.

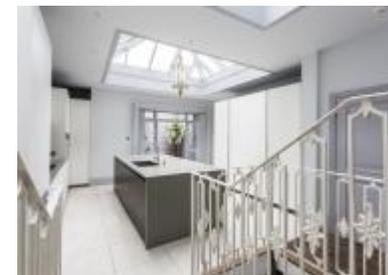

A separate, rather majestic dining room provides a long, polished wooden dining table for twelve, amid oil paintings and mid-century furniture - an elegant environment for a dinner party!

Chester Place boasts original sash windows, solid wood flooring, and a beautiful nook with writers desk, nestled alongside a cool Union Jack couch.

This home can accommodate eight guests across four bedrooms. These bedrooms are understated and tranquil, offering light-infused spaces of sumptuous proportions and antique timber furnishings.

There are glamorous touches such as the achingly trendy free-standing claw-footed bath, the marble ensuite and bedrooms of soft jade and bright turquoise.

Chester Place is a vibrant home, blending original features with playful uber-modern touches, nestled in a dynamic street in one of the most prestigious parts of London.

Location & Local Information

Chester Place is a sumptuous home, nestled in the well-heeled Eccleston Street, in the heart of Belgravia. This street offers proximity to the refined, Georgian streets of smart Belgravia, as well as bustling Victoria.

For a charming pit stop for very reasonable prices bacon sandwiches, visitors may want to pop into The Green Cafe, just a few yards away on the same street. For an elegant Italian meal, Olivo, also on Eccleston Street offers an enticing variety of Sardinian influenced dishes, decorated in contemporary style, reflecting elements of Sardinian culture.

Ebury Street, around the corner (former home to Mozart and Ian Fleming) offers old-school Belgravia charm, alongside some cutting-edge new eateries.

This very attractive enclave offers quiet residential streets, whilst being a short distance to Chelsea, Battersea Park and central London.

The Poule au Pot is one of the capital's prettiest dining rooms; Pimlico Farmers Market is held every Saturday and offers fresh seafood, organic vegetables and award-winning meat.

Belgravia's sweeping colonnades and grand Victorian terraces have made it one of the capital's most exclusive areas; from upscale shopping, expansive squares and historical cobbled streets and Victorian pubs, this neighbourhood blends history with trendy new boutiques and restaurants.

Elizabeth Street is a charming spot, offering cupcake stores and flower lined street cafes, leading to the elegant Pimlico Square. The Orange pub draws in a young, hip crowd, whilst the beautiful Battersea Park is just a stroll over the bridge.

Victoria Station has an impressive array of transport links, whilst the iconic Sloane Square is the gateway to both Chelsea's Kings Road as well as the famous Knightsbridge department stores such as Harrods and Harvey Nichols.

This neighbourhood blends old-school charm, independent commerce, with grand embassies and royal parks. Poilane has some of the best bread in the city, whilst the Thomas Cubitt is as close as it gets to an authentic London pub.
