Overview

Down a quiet street in the bustling Medina of Marrakesh, a large cedar door awaits. Once inside you will be welcomed into a beautiful Riad, a former fortress recently renovated to exquisite standards. With a stunning mix of Moorish and Oriental architecture and European romanticism, you will love this welcoming space. Just five minutes from the thrilling spectacle that is Jemaâ El Fna Square and the colourful meandering lanes of the Medina, you will be ideally placed to enjoy the hustle and bustle yet able to retreat to the peaceful surroundings of the Riad in no time.

The Sand Blush is one of five individually designed rooms here. As its name suggests, its alluring hue is inspired by the damask colours of the desert, a perfect tranquil sanctuary of calm within desert-ochre walls. The room is filled with an eclectic mix of antique pieces sourced by the owner from around the world and beautiful handmade pieces created by local Moroccan craftsmen, all illuminated in lovely soft lighting emanating from beautiful Syrian hanging lamps. The luxurious double bed, which can be converted to twin beds if needs be, is strewn with elegant silk furnishings, making it almost impossible to resist its allure. It also benefits from a glorious en-suite bathroom boasting a decadent copper bath perfect for filling with rose petals for the ultimate indulgence, and walls lavished with polished tadelakt.

The Riad provides many fabulous spaces in which to relax. The elegant courtyard is an idyllic space in which to enjoy your morning pot of mint tea, where a heady scent of Jasmin fills the air, surrounded by glorious palms wrapped in bougainvillea and featuring a rose-filled fountain and lovely plunge pool. There is also a wonderful roof terrace filled with sumptuous seating offering spectacular views over the city and Atlas Mountains beyond; the perfect spot to enjoy a candlelit three-course meal.

For those that want to experience that little bit extra, the Riad has a slick team of people ready to look after your every whim. From providing chauffeurs, masseurs, beauty technicians, personal shoppers and chefs to organising excursions outside the city.

At the foot of the majestic Atlas Mountains, the unique and spiritual city of Marrakesh boasts huge historical significance, having stood for almost a thousand years, from exquisite gardens to intricately carved archways to the ornate mosques. You'll love the intoxication of jasmine and orange blossom that excite the senses as you walk through the city. Passing horse-drawn carriages and stall after stall of exotic goods in the wonderful Medina, where you'll see traditional arts being expertly showcased, from tanners working on their fabulous wares, filling the air with the scent of hides tanning in the Moroccan sun, to the ironmongery of precious metals into beautiful pieces. Make sure you are ready to haggle!

For an authentic spectacular head to Jemaâ El Fna, the busiest square in the whole of Africa. Gnawa musicians, belly dancers, and fire-eaters entertain while mystic snake charmers and enigmatic storytellers entrance their crowd. Enjoy exotic barbequed delicacies on long trestle tables as you soak up the atmosphere before heading deep into the souks to pick up your very own piece of Morocco. Or perhaps take a romantic horse and carriage ride to explore the area.

To escape the intensity of the medina, the perfect tonic will be to delve into one of the many spectacular gardens in the city. Le Jardin Secret is one of the Medina's largest and most important, set out in the shell of a 19th-century palace. Or head outside the Medina to experience luxurious oriental indulgence at Palais Rhoul where Corinthian columns surround a beautiful pool and set beneath a literal waterfall of wisteria. Be sure to visit the architectural splendour that is Bahia Palace while you are here, a nineteenth-century palace of eight hectares, with its fascinating museum and enchanting gardens.

For those hoping to spoil yourselves, get pampered in one of the many hammams in the city, a traditional spa where you'll emerge glowing after a thoroughly luxuriant experience. Or perhaps relax into a round of golf on one of the many beautifully designed courses here. And for the ultimate romantic gesture, why not take a balloon ride over the city either at dawn or sunset to enjoy the spectacular colours over this enchanting city.

The thrill of this beautiful part of the world doesn't stop in Marrakesh. From your Riad, you are ideally located to enjoy one of the many activities in the surrounding area.
