Night time visits are simply mesmerising and provide an enchanting trip into a natural paradise. You will see the moon light up the area and reflected in the waters while you stargaze.

Liza Cavus Thermal are natural mud baths in Dalyan. Although seeing a person covered in mud is a humorous sight, the baths are popular with the locals who are lucky enough to have this nearby and make it part of their regular skincare routine.

Yes, the mud has excellent skin healing and revitalising properties that make it a must use despite its strong smell. Once the mud has dried on your skin, you can shower off or soak in the thermal pool to get it all off. There's also the option of washing it off by swimming in the lake.
