Location & Local Information

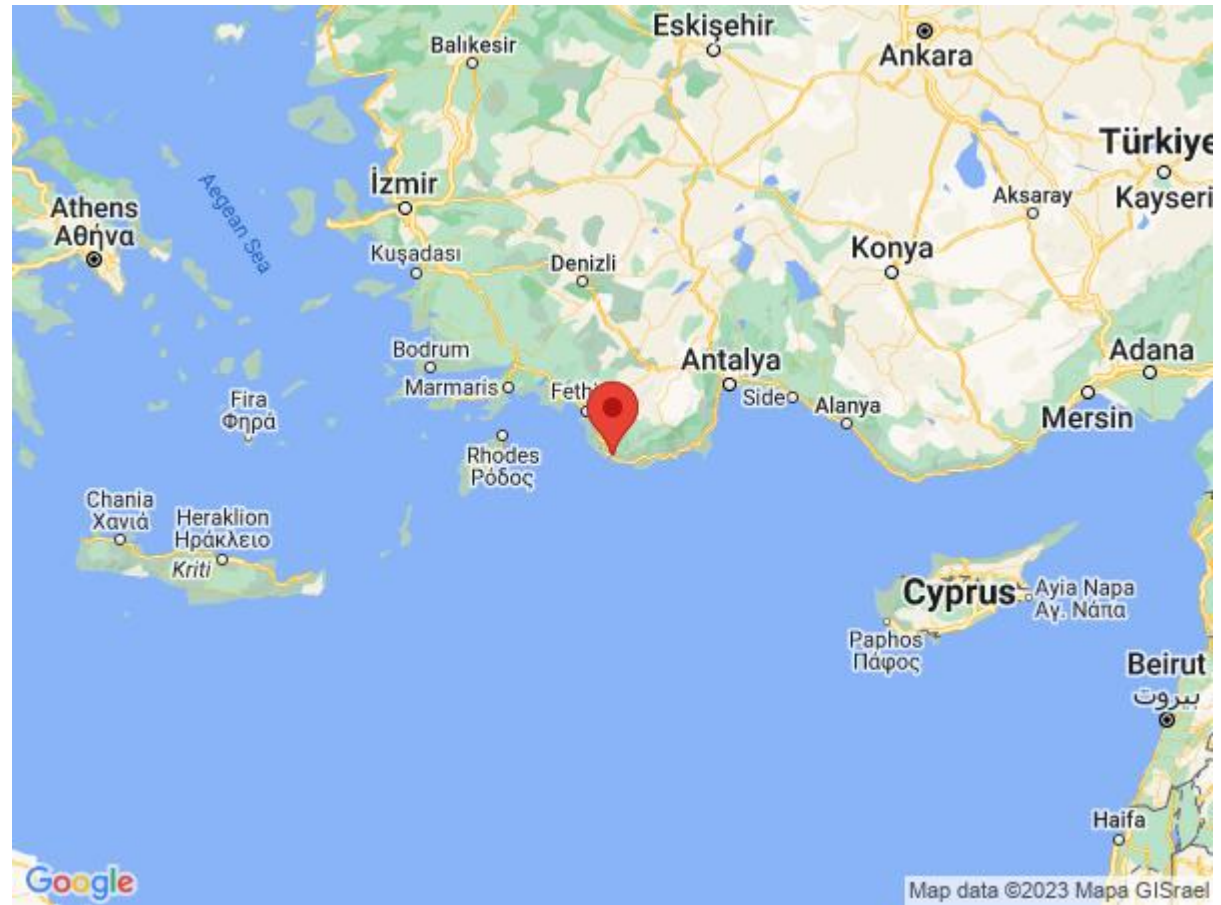

Kalkan's coast has a handful of beach clubs built into the rocks. Elegant beach bars, comfortable sunloungers, serving tantalising dishes and tasty cocktails. Excellent for sprawling out on as well as great facilities including showers & steps into the Turquoise glimmering sea waters below. You can also book watersports, should you have a rush of energies.

The area is rich with Lycian sites, for example Sidyma was a town of ancient Lycia that now only has its ruins that remain as remnants of times gone by. The ruins are rarely visited and little is known of them so there's a feeling of mystery and enchantment that surrounds the site.

The site gives visitors an idea of how people went about with their daily lives centuries ago. Although not much is known about this site, you should be able to make out ancient tombs, temples and graves, giving you a little insight into history. The more popular ancient sites include Patara, Zanthos and Tlos. Patara also has the amazing 10 km sandy beach, that's beauty peaks come sunset. The Saklikent Gorge is another day out, and the attractions include tubing for older children
