Location & Local Information

In the far north of the island, Corralejo has some of the most magnificent beaches in Fuerteventura, with multiple beaches in the town itself! From the sparkling stretch of white sands at the award-winning sand dunes national park to the four major ones located in the town itself, served by cafes and restaurants for your convenience, there's a beach to suit everyone's tastes!

The Natural Park, right beside the town, is well worth a visit, with stunning sand dunes, ocean views and endless miles of beaches – it feels just like the desert (until you get to the sea, of course!). The explorers of the group will love a trip dune-buggy around it and up across the striking, volcanic landscapes! Head over to the famous 'Popcorn Beach', to experience the viral phenomenal up close! A whole beach covered in these fascinating little bits of coral – you can even walk here from the town for a scenic coastal stroll too!

The town is also a fantastic base for scuba diving, and regular trips and courses are run to the world-class local dive sites, including the diverse and rich waters of Lobos Island! This island is a magnificent nature reserve that feels fabulously remote, like a castaway island! It has been uninhabited since 1982! The boat journey is just 15-20 minutes and has many trails for hikers and nature lovers to explore! You can cover almost the whole island in just 2-3 hours.

Fuerteventura is a volcanic island famous for its beaches! The north and south of the island both boast long white sandy stretches for miles. Across the island, you will find countless opportunities for outdoor adventures! Of course, the many miles of stunning beaches lend themselves to all kinds of water-sports. Indeed, it is even known as the Hawaii of the Atlantic, or 'the European Hawaii' thanks to its crystal clear and warm waters and fabulous surfing seascape.
