This area is great for a sunset cocktail and strolling along the boardwalk. The area is also famous for its buzzing nightlife, with everything from rooftop bars to 'super clubs' open from dusk till dawn.

Marbella's Old Town is sometimes overlooked by visitors to the region, but it has so much to offer. From interesting architecture to the art galleries, bars and restaurants, there's something for everyone. Take a stroll to the Orange Square, a picturesque Andalusian plaza filled with orange groves and lots of plants. Watch the world go by from an ancient cafe with a glass of wine or coffee in hand.

In this area, guests can also check out St Mary's Church, with its beautiful baroque red stone entrance. Art lovers should take a walk down Avenida del Mar in central Marbella where they can spot more sculptures by Dali all along the boardwalk. There are benches here where you can admire the artwork and soak up the history.

The Costa del Sol is blessed with so many dazzling beaches; you could visit a different one each day if you liked! Playa de la Fontanilla is a gorgeous beach close to the villa. The beach runs from Marbella Marina to the promenade and is over 1km long.

Marbella is fantastic for shopping, from high street names to designer labels.
