Villa Rayong is located on the gorgeous Na Jomtien Beach. Water sports enthusiasts can take part in thrilling windsurfing and kiteboarding with the Blue Lagoon Water Sports Club. The beach is long and very attractive.

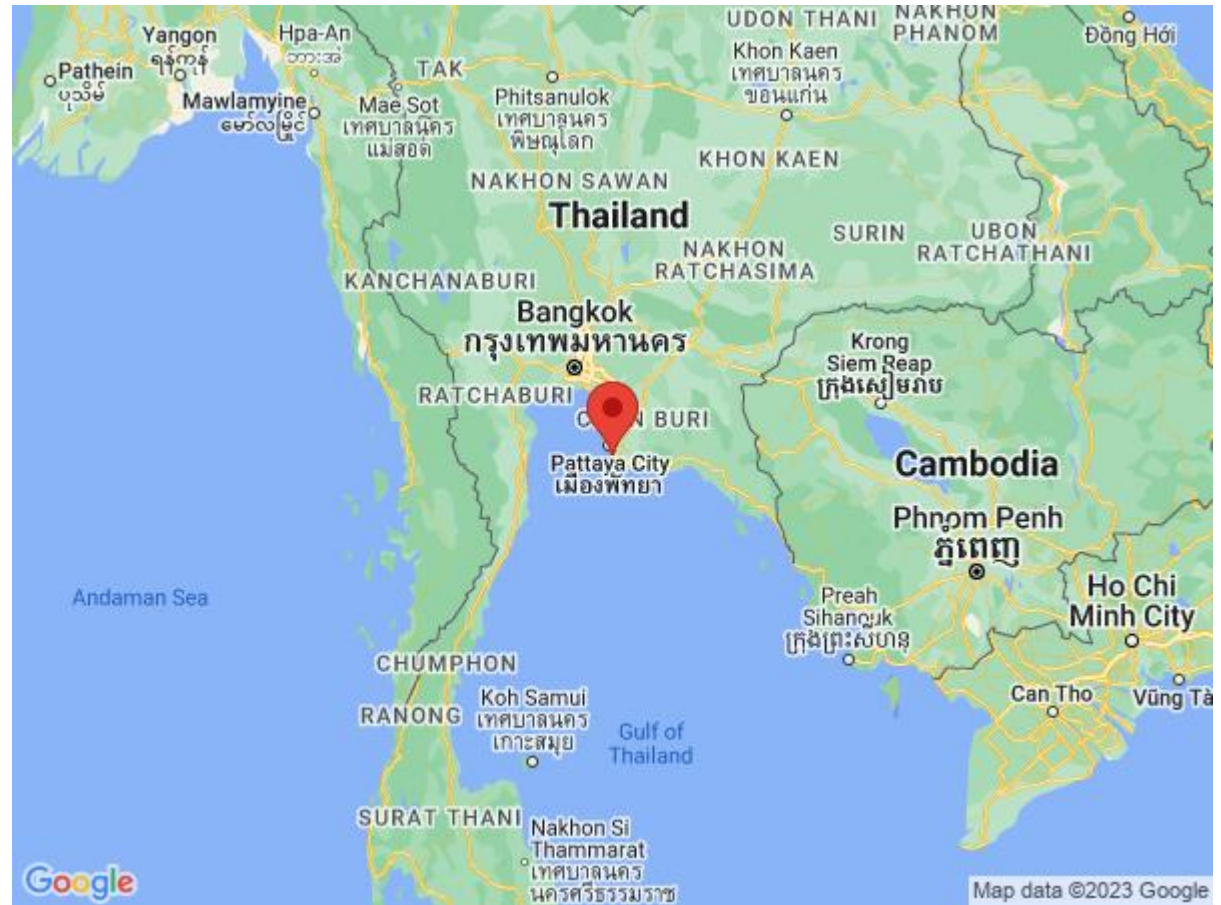

Charming fishing villages can be explored between Jomtien and Sattahip. Bang Sare and Ban Amphur both offer excellent, delicious fresh fish Thai meals at the waterside restaurants. You can see the colourful boats arrive with their catches of fish, squid and crabs. It is so lovely to eat at the restaurants on stilts while admiring the stunning sea views.

Pattaya's buzzy and colourful nightlife is renowned. The Walking Street of Pattaya is a neon blaze of loud entertainment. The street is brimming with nightclubs, bars, restaurants and go-go bars. The cabaret shows such as Tiffany's are flamboyant, spectacular affairs. Food vendors and street performers are in abundance.

You can take a boat trip from Bali Hai Pier in Pattaya to the idyllic Koh Larn or Coral Island as it is also known. Coral Island is 7.5km west of Pattaya Beach and is a fantastic day trip. You can catch the morning boat and spend a few hours on the glorious, pristine sand. If you don't want to swim, snorkel or enjoy the watersports available, you can have your hair braided, your body henna-tattooed or enjoy a massage.

There are many glowing temples, Buddas or intricately carved buildings to visit. Wat Phra Khao Yai or Big Buddha Hill in South Pattaya is colourful and magical. The site is an active temple and the 18 metres tall; golden Buddha watches over Jomtien and Pattaya Beaches. The Sanctuary of Truth, Banglamung is a one-of-a-kind teak structure 105 metres tall. The carvings of elephants, people and scenes, creatures and deities from mythology are incredibly detailed. The fascinating building is a sanctuary to a philosophical truth which tells the importance of religion, philosophy and art have played in development.

Close to the resort is Ang Sila, an interesting community of legendary artisans and rock carvers. The town is famous for its 133 Year Market, Bangsaen Beach, Wonnapa Beach, Khao Kheow Open Zoo and Ang Sila Fish Pier.
