Location & Local Information

Phuket, a rainforested, mountainous island in the emerald green Andaman Sea boasts some of Thailand's most glorious beaches. There are 36 in all, including the stunning 11km long pristine, white sand beach of Khoa Lak. The island is home to many high-class seaside resorts, exquisite spas and stunning restaurants. Phuket City, the capital of the island, is brimming with charming old shophouses and busy, colourful markets. Patong is the main resort town full of party revellers in the nightclubs, bars and discos.

Phuket's Big Buddha is a seated Maravija Buddha which sits atop Nakkerd Hills near Chalong. At 45 metres tall it is the third-tallest statue in Thailand, falling behind the Great Buddha of Thailand and Luangpho Yai. The Buddha is made of concrete and covered with Burmese white marble. It faces towards Ao Chalong Bay and is the main Buddha of the Wat Kitthi Sankaram temple.

The most important of the 29 Buddhist temples of Phuket is Wat Chalong. It is dedicated to two monks, Luang Pho Chaem and Luang Pho Chuang. There is a large market selling souvenirs from the colourful stalls, and there is live music.

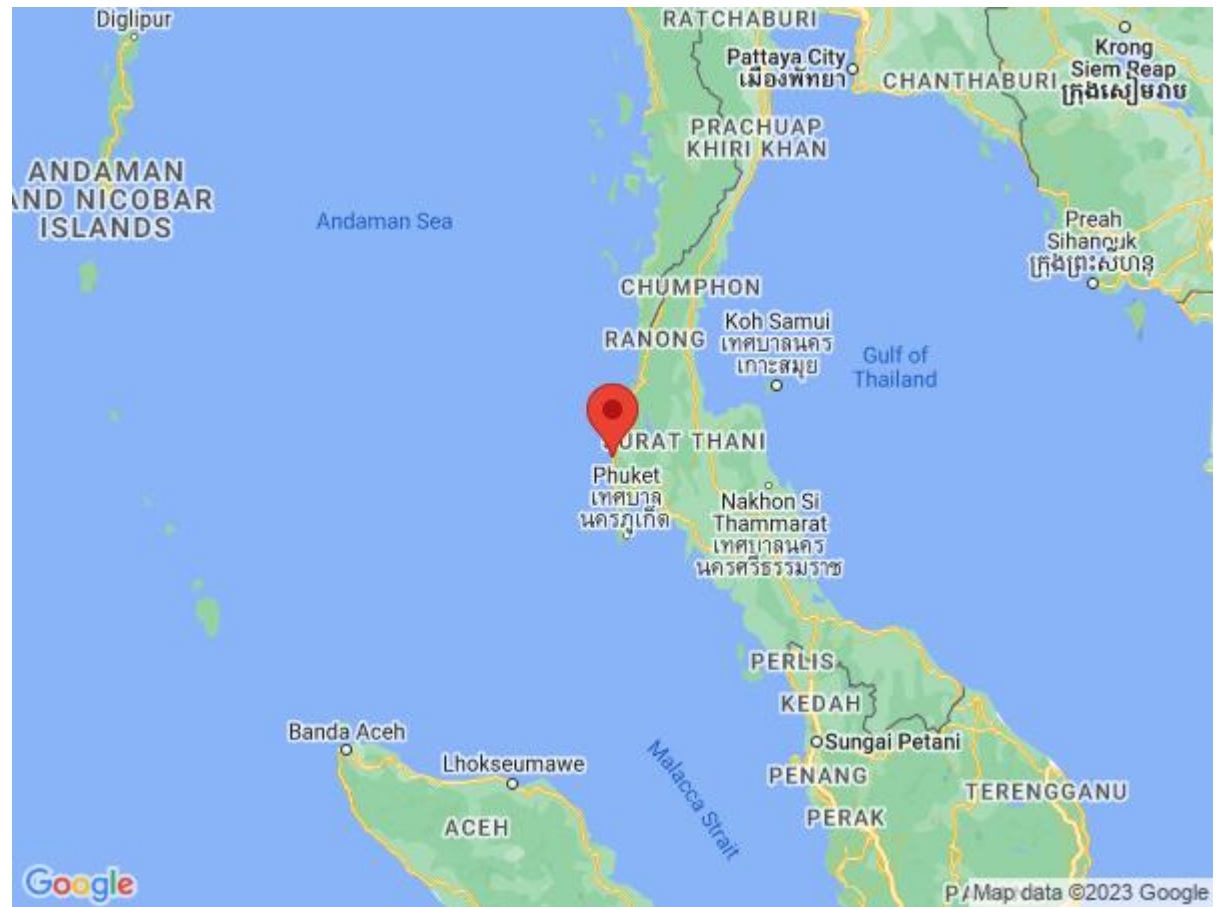

The Sarojin Khoa Lak Luxury Boutique Beach Resort borders five breathtaking primary rain forested national parks where you can take trips on the mountain bikes or for extreme rock climbing. The resort's Lady Sarojin yacht operates scheduled snorkelling trips to the world-famous dive sanctuaries of the Similan and Surin Islands National Marine Parks. The scenery is absolutely stunning.

The resort's yacht will also take you on trips around the spectacular Phang Nga Bay, famous for its dramatic limestone islands, cliffs and rock formations. The fascinating rock formations jut vertically out of the glistening, emerald green water and at low tide you can enter the exposed cave tunnels and discover the hidden lagoons.

One of the most popular excursions is to The Phuket Elephant Sanctuary; the island's truly an ethical camp for injured and aged elephants. It was opened in 2016 by the British conservationist Louise Rogerson who later went on to open The Treetops Elephant Reserve, near Big Buddha Hill. Guests will be educated on the lives of elephants.
