Location & Local Information

Puigpunyent sits on the slopes of the dramatic Tramuntana Mountains in the west of Mallorca. This fabulous, picturesque village is surrounded by high mountains covered in pine and evergreen oak woodland, olive, almond and carob tree groves and cultivated fields. It is only 15 minutes from the busy town of Palma. The idyllic setting and convenient location make it a great base for visitors looking for a relaxed place to stay.

The valley of Puigpunyent is believed to have been one of the first inhabited areas on Mallorca. There are many historic sites including several talaiots and the necropolis of Casat Nou. A visit to one of the family-run vineyards dating back to 1597 is a must when staying at Deluxe Punyent. Bodegas Son Puig is a very good example. It produces signature wine with limited production with grapes being picked by hand by the same people every year. The architecture of the winery and its cutting-edge technology is integrated into a building of centuries-old wine tradition.

The Puig de Galatzo offers walkers and cyclists challenging and rewarding climbs together with spectacular views. The nature park La Reserva Puig de Galatzo has 2.5 million metres of unspoilt countryside to explore.

Despite being small, Puigpunyent has plenty of restaurants and cafes from traditional cosy restaurants to formal smart ones such as the fantastic, refined Oleum Restaurant. The Gran Hotel Son Net boasts beautiful traditional architecture with classical opulence and an impressive art collection. It is home to the Oleum Restaurant. The village plays host to many festivals during the holiday season with traditional and classical music and arts and crafts.

Palma is a wonderful city. It's massive Santa Maria Cathedral, a Gothic landmark dating back to the 13th century overlooks the Bay of Palma. With the glistening Mediterranean at its feet, Palma is a delicious melting pot of various cultures and historical influences. It boasts grand places, cobbled streets in the atmospheric old town, many museums, impressive monuments and historic buildings, galleries and a vibrant dining and shopping scene. You should check out the Parc de Mar Lake, St Peter's Chapel, the Almudaina Palace, Jaime III full of chic boutiques and the El Cortes Ingles department store, Olivar Market, Placa Santa Eulalia and the Santa Clara Convent.

16km from the villa is Port del Canonge, a lovely beach with a small pier and incredible views. It is near Banyalbufar, one of the last remaining authentic coastal villages in Mallorca. Its ancient terraced hillsides descend into the sea with glorious views of the Tramuntana mountains and beautiful sunsets. The village is steeped in history with landmarks such as the Church of La Nativitat de Santa Maria. It houses a valuable Baroque organ. Many artists are attracted to Banyalbufar. The Torre del Verger watchtower, between Banyalbufar and Estellencs, dates back to 1579 and is quite an iconic image on Mallorca.
