Location & Local Information

Port d'es Torrent is blessed with the Caribbean-esque, sparkling turquoise waters that the west coast of Ibiza is famous for. It is the opposite of its fast-living neighbour, San Antonio, around the corner as it is peaceful and calm. The sheltered, sandy bay is organised with sun loungers and parasols.

Nearby, Cala Bassa is the supermodel of beaches with soft, golden sand surrounded by shady trees and gorgeous dunes. It is home to the trendy and fashionable Cala Bassa Beach Club with its fancy cabanas, cocktails and delicious food. Further south, Cala Conta boasts stunning views across to the little islands that are dotted near the coastline, including S'illa d'es Bosc which you can swim to in low tide. Cala Conta has two stretches of sand, one backed by a Jurassic rocky coastline and the other by sand dunes and is famous for its glorious, dreamy sunsets. Cala Tarida is the longest and widest beach on the west coast. Aside from the turquoise and emerald green waters, it offers beach volleyball, watersports and a diving school.

In the foothills of Sa Talaia, the highest mountain on the island, you can visit the delightful town of San Jose. A popular time to visit is Saturday morning when the town hosts its famous ecological food and craft market. You can buy local and organic fruit and vegetable produce, home-made bread and pastries, artwork and handicrafts from the stallholders. There are excellent restaurants, shops and bars and an impressive church in the town.

You cannot miss a trip into the heady Ibiza Town. It is a clubber's dream with nightclubs, bars and super-clubs, but it is also very attractive and historic. The World Heritage-listed, Dalt Vila of Ibiza Town is picturesque with centuries-old mansions, steep, atmospheric cobbled streets, jasmine draped balconies and a majestic Gothic cathedral. The new marina is glossy and smart, brimming with chic boutiques, excellent restaurants and bars and floating palaces in the harbour.
