Location & Local Information

Almancil is a lovely destination where you will feel the real Algarve rather than just tourist amenities. The neighbouring village of Sao Lourenco boasts a pretty 18th-century church with fabulous Portuguese style blue and white tiles. The characterful tiles tell the story of its patron saint with the azulejo work dating back to 1730. Close to the church is the local centro cultural where you will enjoy art exhibitions and musical performances. The local pottery of Almancil and Sao Lourenco is widely renowned.

The quaint Portuguese market town of Loule is the perfect place for souvenir shopping in its Arabic inspired market. You can also buy local produce and freshly caught fish in the market. The Gothic Igreja Matriz Church is very striking. Close to Loule, you will find the magical Quinta da Tor where you can taste and buy some delicious authentic Algarvian wines.

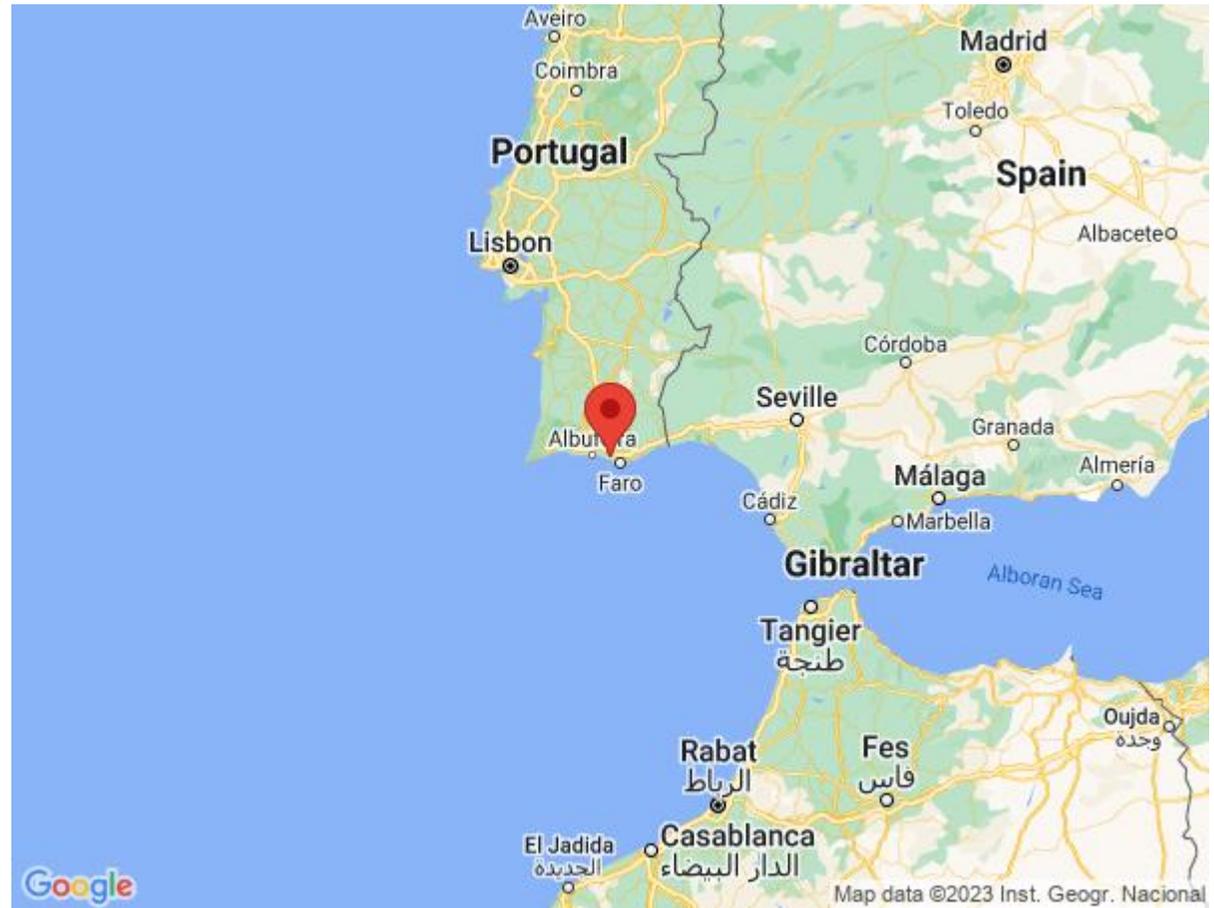

Vale do Lobo is a very popular region in the Algarve. It was designed in the sixties with golf in mind, so there are 2 championship courses amongst the fragrant pine trees and a wonderful beachfront. The main square is brimming with charming bars and restaurants. Distinctive terracotta cliffs flank the 2km sweep of golden sands, and the rolling Atlantic waves are just waiting for swimmers and watersports fans. The challenging Royal Golf Course, 5km from the villa, will see you teeing off along the cliff edge.

The lively town of Vilamoura is a sporting haven with golf courses, horse riding, football pitches, watersports and a top tennis academy on offer. The Old Course, set in a lush pinewood, is the second oldest golf course in the Algarve. The Victoria, Laguna, Millenium, Pinhal and Vila Sol courses are all outstanding. Vilamoura's striking, award-winning marina has played host to World Championship races, with many countries participating. The classy marina is lined with high-class bars and restaurants, and the glamorous super-yachts are a sight to see. Vilamoura boasts two amazing beaches, several of the regions leading spas and a fabulous casino.

East of Faro, the Ria Formosa Nature Park is a network of barrier islands and inlets created by constantly shifting sandbanks. It is beautiful and definitely worth the trip. Ferry boats take visitors to the little islands of Barreta, Culatra, Armona and Ilha Tavira.
