Location & Local Information

Orhaniye is a small rural village on the beautiful Bozburun Peninsula in Turkey, a 25-minute drive from the popular holiday resort Marmaris. Dotted with smallholdings and olive vineyards, it's truly traditional Turkey at its finest.

Most of the locals work their land for a living. Think beekeeping, orange, mandarin and pomegranate groves, as well as peanuts and herbs. Look out for fresh produce in the shops or at the Saturday market in front of the Mayor's Office. At the latter, you can buy everything from fresh fruit and vegetables to clothes, olive oil and village bread.

The quaint village also boasts a restaurant-fronted waterfront, that's a popular place for yachts to anchor. For days spent on the sand, head to Kizkumu Beach, one of the most beautiful beaches in the region. It has a sand spit reaching some 500 metres out into Orhaniye Bay.

The surrounding mountainous Bozburun Peninsula is the perfect place to explore. Drive through the winding country roads into more quaint villages like Turgutkoy, Hisaronu or Selimiye (10km away). There you'll find a beautiful harbour, and the ancient city of Hydass is nearby. The three castles, lighthouse and monastery remnants are all worth seeing.

Fabulous fish lunches, followed by a dip in crystal clear waters, can be enjoyed at Sogut and Selimiye, or drive out earlyish one day for a Turkish breakfast in Selimiye. Breakfast is served until midday so you won't be late!

Marmaris is renowned for its famous pebbly beach and long seafront promenade – with plenty of opportunities to take part in water sports. The bustling resort town is also known for its lively nightlife and shopping, charming 16th-century castle and sailing and scuba-diving opportunities.

What we love

- Surrounded by open areas of greenery, this expansive pool terrace offers an amazing space with more than enough room for everyone.
- A covered dining area with a built-in barbecue provides shade from the sun, as does the parasol-lined pool terrace and lots of seating
- There's a homely feel to the interiors at this villa, with their bare stone walls and classic furnishings
- The water comes from a well and is heated by solar, with an electric backup for when it's cloudy
- The garden has an abundance of fruit trees, including oranges, plums, avocado which you can enjoy when in season.
- The owner keeps a vegetable plot and you can enjoy her vegetables.
- There are lots of shaded sitting areas at the property.

What you should know...

- One of the bedrooms features twin beds and may therefore be better suited to children or friends sharing
- The friendly yet unobtrusive lady owner lives in a separate house on the same plot. She will clean the pool of a morning. She's also a great baker, so look forward to some treats!
