Guests are encouraged to take in the outstanding sight of the Madonna and Child statue, an iconic piece of art that was sculpted by Francesc Facula in 1985. This beautiful church is considered to be a centrepiece within Begur and is used to hold local markets and has even been used in multiple filming locations.

If you are looking to discover more about Begur's far-reaching history, then multiple sightseeing tours are available. One of the tours, known as 'Route Through The Towers of Begur', is a 2-hour walking tour that guides tourists through the many battle towers seen in this town. The tour begins outside the Tower of Can Pella i Forgas, which is less than a 10-minute walk away from the centre of Begur. From here, you will travel up and down the region, discovering landmarks such as the Tower of Ca n'Armanac and the Tower of Can Marques. The Dali-Theatre Museum makes use of an old theatre building, using a stage in the centre of one of the rooms. This ornate stage leads down to a crypt where Dali himself was laid to rest.
