Thanks to the beautiful natural landscape and rugged terrain around the villa, hiking is a popular pastime amongst the locals and visitors. If you're feeling up to it, be sure to take the chance to take in the views of Benalmadena and the Mediterranean Sea from above.

Getting to the villa is really easy as Benalmadena is well-served by both local and national road links. To get to the villa, your nearest airport is in Malaga which is only a 20-minute drive away. Once you arrive, the local area is draped in leafy green trees and bright blooming flowers while dramatic mountains rise out of the distance behind.

You'll really benefit from renting a car during your stay as Villa Cheriva is quite far back from Benalmadena's centre. Not only that, the walk back to Villa Cheriva from the centre of town can be very steep in places and takes around an hour on foot.

Once in town, you can enjoy the lively buzz that comes from staying in a popular destination. Everything you and your fellow holidaymakers could need to enjoy your break is on your doorstep, with supermarkets, local boutiques, delicious restaurants, and world-class beaches being just the tip of the iceberg.

Golf aficionados are well-served, with multiple golf courses located around the region. If you fancy a game during your stay, the nearest courses are Golf Torrequabrada and Benalmadena Golf, both of which are only a ten-minute drive away from Villa Cheriva.
