Location & Local Information

You'll find your blissful villa in the serene town of Nezerine on the Dalmatian island of Losinj. The property itself is a true haven, there are no busy roads surrounding your villa, making this the perfect place for families and any pets you may wish to accompany you. A wonderful place to soak in the charms of the Adriatic and forget the foibles of the larger world, here you can sit beneath the nestle tree and read a book whilst listening to the calming sound of crickets.

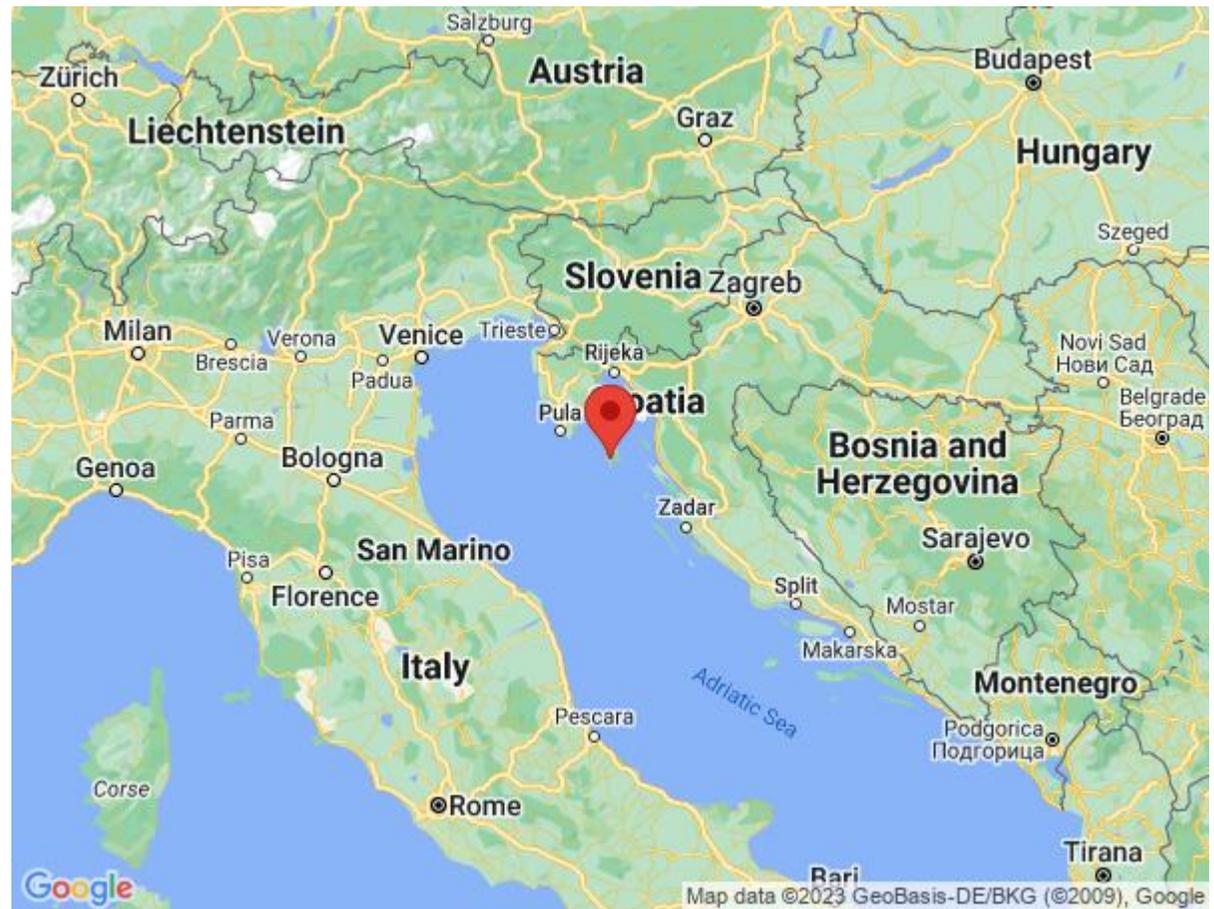

Losinj itself is perfectly poised in the northern Adriatic Sea and is renowned for its stunning bays and plentiful vegetation. Its main town, Mali Losinj, houses a large natural harbour, the Museum of Losinj within the Fritzi Palace and the Museum of Apoxyomenos.

Losinj appeals to tourists because it remains so unspoilt – you can truly feel as though you are going back in time when you explore the local area, forget your troubles, spend time with those that matter or delve into a creative project. Despite the virginal landscape, Losinj is by no means a 'boring' location – the history of the area is incredibly rich, and the neighbouring museums will allow you to explore that history in greater depth. The island's history is fairly unique – many travelled to Losinj to assist with respiratory ailments due to its pure sea air.

Losinj is a long, narrow island, far from pollution and populated with many herbs. The island itself is very fragrant – you can smell the herbs upon arrival. Ideal for those who long to explore a paradise that isn't overly populated, you may wish to seek out Veli Losinj to discover more about the area within the confines of a beautiful tower converted into a museum. Another great lure is island hopping – there are plenty of beautiful and bountiful islands dotting the Adriatic. If you're feeling adventurous, you may wish to see what the others have to offer.

As for the local town of Nezerine, where your villa is located, it's known as a fishing island and is home to only 400 people. The historic homes, quaint gentle charm and endless eateries are a key appeal. This is certainly a simpler way of life. Something you absolutely must do in Nezerine is eat. You can't walk far without finding a beautiful spot to while away a few hours. Joker offers excellent seafood and barbecue, Konoba Promenada is the joint for pizza lovers, as is Mornar, Pogana is great for a sample of authentic Croatian fare Bistro RIO is wonderful if you're seeking something fast.

The area is peppered with many churches and monasteries, and there are also a handful of bars and clubs for those who want to explore the nightlife. Of course, the key selling point is the sandy beaches, pristine waters and flawless greenery.

What we love

- We love the selection of kids' toys at the property. Alongside badminton and the trampoline, there's lots of fun for kids and adults alike.
- As well as the fragrant air, being able to cook up your own pasta or pizza whilst adding some of the home-grown herbs from your very own garden really transports you into the past.
- We enjoy the blend of old and new. It's easy to avoid the modern world, but if you miss it, Netflix is only a room away.

What you should know...

- Please ensure you carry cash. Village life is very authentic and not everywhere accepts card.
- Pets are welcomed at the property, but arrangements must be made first. Although the area is fenced in and the surrounding roads are quiet, animals should still be monitored.
- Mali Losinj is the largest town and is about a 19 minute drive from the property. By bus or if walking, the journey closes in on three and a half hours, making a car preferable.
