

Villa Adina

Region: Krk Sleeps: 6 - 8

Overview

Stylish and contemporary, Villa Adina is an outstanding property located on the Island of Krk, Croatia's largest and most populated island. Combining beautiful minimalist design with contemporary furnishings, the villa has a warm, yet sophisticated feel, with architectural features that add a special touch.

Built over two levels, each living space is as bright and airy as the next, with a sequence of delightful rooms flowing through the villa. The large windows embed the views within the villa's walls, just a fingertip touch away. The main living space is open plan, with a beautiful kitchen and dining area, as well as a large sofa and TV, where you can curl up and read a book with your morning coffee, enjoying the light that shines through the adjacent patio doors. This warm space is light and spacious, yet the soft materials and cosy colours create a homeliness that makes it easy to instantly relax.

The villa's three bedrooms are equally modern in their design. Each comes with its own tranquil view out to the pretty surroundings. Boasting sleek ensuite bathrooms, with walk-in showers you can enjoy your own privacy, returning to the communal areas to spend time as a group. Our favourite spot in the villa is the large second-floor balcony with partial sea views. There is a sense of tranquillity every time you step out onto it, that makes every guest feel calm and relaxed.

Stepping outside, the contemporary design continues, with a private pool, outdoor dining area and fabulous barbecue. The views stretch across the surrounding countryside and rooftops to the hilltops and sea beyond. If long days in the sun are called for, then this is the perfect spot, offering plenty of room for you to relax under the clear blue skies of Croatia!

Villa Adina is one of two semidetached houses which can be rented individually or together. Villa Adina II is able to accommodate an additional six adult guests, perfect for large groups or multiple families travelling together. Please enquire for more information.

Location & Local Information

Villa Adina is located on the west side of the island Krk, Croatia's largest and most populated island in the beautiful Kvarner Bay. Krk stays connected to the mainland via a 1430-meter-long bridge making access to this beautiful island easier than most and means the area is well equipped for tourists, with plenty for all ages to enjoy. The layered history and rich culture are evident across the island, with charming towns and beautiful places to visit. The more you explore, the more you understand the islands and countries' rich heritage.

The whole island offers natural beauty, wonderful beaches, romantic coves, healing muds, adventure activities, exceptional restaurants, delicious wine, thousand-year-old monuments, and art galleries. Southwest of the island is Krk town, known for its terracotta rooftops, rocky shores, and charming streets. St. Mary's Cathedral was built in the twelfth century with a bell tower added in the sixteenth century. Frankopan Castle stands by the edge of the rocky coast and has been acting as a fortress to protect from attacks from the sea since the twelfth century. Since it was constructed, the fortress has been continually developed and is a good view of the sea. If you are looking for sandy beaches, then there is great beach in the town of Baska, perfect for a day in the sand.

Venturing beyond Krk itself offers a great adventure during your trip. Each neighbouring island offers something different to the next. We recommend taking the ferry to Cres, the closest island to Krk, known for its secluded bays and coves. The jagged, rocky coast encircles the island while ancient forests rise inland. Influenced by the Venetians, Cres town is the busiest spot, many say it mimics an Italian town and you can see for yourself as you wander through the quaint streets, soaking in the years of history.

For those that love the water, you can delve deeper and explore the crystal-clear waters surrounding the island. Snorkelling is one of the best ways to discover the underwater world, exploring the sea life and seabed. Scuba diving is also available for the ones who want to take their adventure to the next level.
