Location & Local Information

Santa Eulalia is Ibiza's third-largest resort and is a popular destination for those looking for a quiet and relaxing holiday on this notorious party island. This pretty town has a long-established reputation as Ibiza's gastronomic and cultural centre, and its palm-lined promenade and sandy beaches attract visitors from far and wide. Here you will find beautiful art galleries, an exclusive yachting marina and plenty of shopping opportunities, all enjoyed by those who like to take life at a slow and relaxing pace.

The promenade spans the length of the wide (smoke-free!) beach and is adorned with miniature gardens and a large fountain. From the bay, you can take a river walk along the only river in the Balearics to run into the sea, meandering up to a beautiful 18th-century stone bridge and along a pretty paved walkway to the beach of Calo de S'Alga. Santa Eulalia has a warm and vibrant atmosphere, lined with cafes and restaurants ranging from 'cheap and cheerful to exclusive fine-dining establishments. Much of the main street is closed to traffic in the early evening, giving way to a picture-perfect Mediterranean scene with outdoor dining, lights, music and musicians.

The town centre is also home to a selection of fashion boutiques - with prices much lower than in Ibiza Town - as well as some of the island's famous hippie markets, where vendors come to sell their colourful arts and crafts, including paintings, sculptures and decorative items. The nightlife here is much quieter and laid back than resorts such as San Antonio or Playa d'en Bossa, with visitors opting to enjoy a nice meal before strolling along the promenade or perhaps popping into one of the town's bars - some of which offer live music and are open until late.
