Location & Local Information

The wonderful Villa Suay is nestled on the hillside in north Koh Samui, just a few minutes from some of the best and most popular attractions. The area is upmarket, stylish and tranquil. Koh Samui enjoys excellent beaches, colourful cultural attractions, delicious local food, idyllic islands and many special events. Temple Fairs are regularly held to recognize important days in the Buddhist calendar. The temple's grounds are transformed into mini-festivals with fairground rides and games for visitors to enjoy.

Koh Samui's Big Buddha at Wat Phra Yai, the mummified monks at Wat Khunaram, the captivating Wat Khao Hua Jook temple, Hin Lat Waterfall, the Secret Buddha Garden, Fisherman's Village, Bophut and the incredible rock formations of Hin Ta and Hin Yai are all within very easy reach of the villa. The Wat Teepankorn temple is located on a mountain-top near Lamai and can be reached by taking an off-road tour. The towering Buddha statue and panoramic views at the top are fabulous. The Secret Buddha Garden sits atop the Tar Nim Waterfall peak and boasts majestic views as well as an impressive collection of statues. The gardens were created by Nim Thongsuk, an old Samui fruit farmer who started erecting statues and temples around his family's land and continued until his death at 91. Each statue has a fascinating story to tell.

Boat rides to the Ang Thong National Marine Park or to Koh Nang Yuan, picturesque islands with large sandbars and live coral are extremely popular. You can hike, snorkel, kayak or dive around the Ang Thong and discover the amazing scenic beauty of the islands. Another popular excursion is to Koh Phangan, Thailand's fifth largest island, known for its raucous half-moon and full-moon parties. The island is totally unspoilt with idyllic, long white-sanded beaches, a hilly, lush, tropical jungle interior and incredible dive sites.

Party people will want to head to the neon strip of central Chaweng, a five minute drive south from the villa. Soi Green Mango is home to cheap drinks and loud music as well as racy go-go bars and ladyboy shows. The 6km long Chaweng Beach boasts lively beach parties, water parks, mini golf, cocktail bars and restaurants. Chaweng is the busiest place on the island.

Closer to the villa is the golden sandy beach of Choeng Mon Beach and the endless sands of Bangrak Beach. At Bangrak you will find the trendy beach clubs of Chi, Tembo and The Prestige. Bangrak is peaceful and you will find busy fishermen, people walking their dogs and those there to watch the beautiful sunsets.

The Fisherman's Village at Bophut should not be missed. Its rustic buildings are now home to trendy restaurants, boutiques, gift shops, coffee bars, art galleries and dive shops. Every Friday, the village becomes a lively Walking Street market, the perfect place to pick up souvenirs and taste street food.
