Location & Local Information

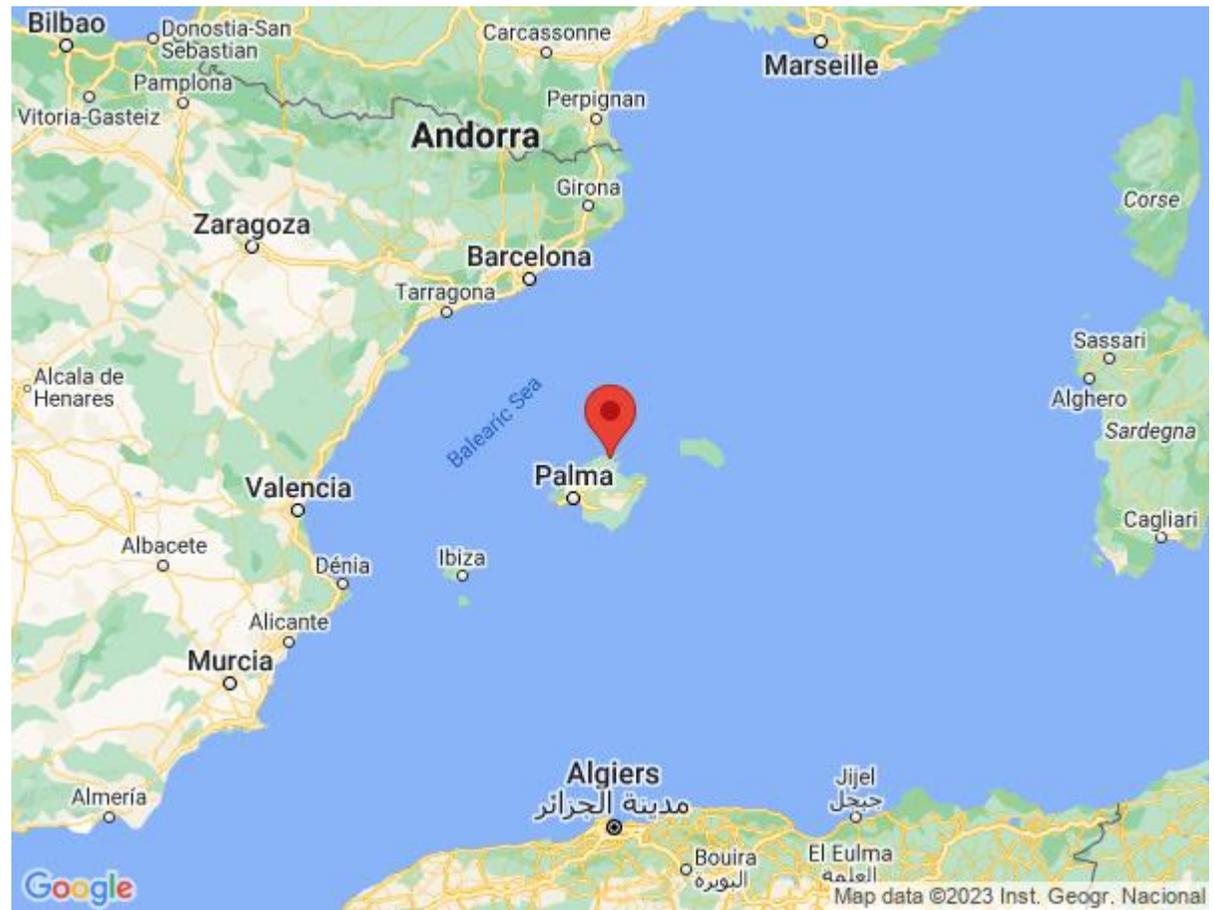

Pollensa is a deeply inspiring and romantic location, making it a suitable region for a couple's getaway or a family get-together. Pollensa Museum is one of the most iconic landmarks within this region and is home to the beautiful works of Atilio Boveri. Although it is now well known for its collection of contemporary pieces, it was once recognised as a simple storage unit. This establishment was used to hold a range of ornate Gothic altarpieces, which became very popular and highly sought-after throughout the decades. In fact, these pieces got so popular they even received praise at the prestigious Summer Exhibition of Painting back in the 1960s. In 1975, the museum became open to the public and quickly grew into a fan favourite amongst both tourists and locals. The Pollensa Museum is located just a stone's throw away from the centre of the region and is open Monday-Friday from 10 am to 2 pm. Moreover, this museum is free to enter, which makes it a suitable attraction for those looking for an affordable day out.

This region is also commended for its diverse food scene with fantastic establishments such as Q11 Restaurant, based just 10-minutes away. This fine dining institution focuses heavily on Seasonal Gastronomy, a concept that means that the chefs only use the freshest ingredients in their cooking. As such, guests have the privilege of tasting a delicious meal each and every time. This restaurant provides a range of amazing menu options, such as divine tagliatelle served with expertly prepared lobster, as well as a luxurious burger that is placed on traditional focaccia bread. Q11 Restaurant welcomes guests every day from 12 pm to 10:30 pm.

Puig de Maria is a deeply significant religious landmark that is situated less than 10-minutes away from the centre of the region. At the top of a 330-metre hill sits a small monastery that is considered to be a devoted shrine to the Virgin Mary. Unfortunately, this iconic building was forced to close in 1564 and did not reopen until 1638. However, guests can now travel inside this monastery and observe a wide selection of beautiful artefacts and fixtures, helping them to learn more about this wondrous region.
