Location & Local Information

Croatia has enchanted tourists for decades and has been the sight of multiple invasions over time. A beautifully unique jewel, it's not hard to see why Croatia and its islands have drawn much attention for a long time. Croatia endures, and it does so because it has everything a holidaymaker could dream of – blissful, reliably good weather, enticing food, rugged captivating nature and oodles of culture and history.

Your villa is located on the island of Krk, a large island in the northern Adriatic Sea which connects to the mainland of Croatia via a bridge. There's a great deal to see and do on the island itself, a must-see is a visit to the 5th-century Krk Cathedral with its Corinthian columns, and marble altar. Another option is the Frankopan Castle which overlooks the Adriatic and houses a bell tower and narrow stone passages which have existed for centuries. This is one of Croatia's fascinating charms—it beautifully blended the past with the new. You can feel Croatia's history all around you regardless of whether you're drawn to the country for that reason.

To the east lies a small bay on which you'll find minuscule Košljun Island and its Franciscan monastery.

Oprna Bay is wonderful for hiking, swimming, and sunbathing. Vela plaža Baška is a narrow stretch of pebbled beach that is also ideal for swimming. There are some unique locations to explore for those who have an eye for something unusual – Biserujka, an underground cave with a mesmerising great hall akin to something from a fairy tale. Those with grand imaginations might picture trolls or dragons lurking here, and it can be wonderfully captivating for young children as they explore.

Crikvenica Beach is a wonderful family-friendly option for a day out, as is Podvorska. If snorkelling and seeking out fish is what appeals, we recommend a trip to Vela Luka, a secluded spot with beguiling waters ideal for watery explorations. You can also visit the local aquarium.

Haludovo Beach offers something unusual – here, you'll find the ruins of an old hotel. Again, this is quite evocative, so prepare to be inspired. At Plavnik Island you can see a lonely lighthouse and Vrženica houses both a canyon and a beach. Sveti Grgur is a lovely little island with a former women's prison. If you want to eat whilst the family enjoy a swim, Punta Di Galetto beach is an ideal destination where you can whittle away tremendous amounts of time diving into the waters or indulging in freshly caught seafood.

If you want to take in the beauty of the area from great heights, ziplining is a great way to do just that. Rajska Beach can't be beaten if you're looking for a remote swimming area where you can also enjoy fresh juices.

Head to Obzova if you like hiking and views of the island. Svežanj Bay boasts beautiful views of the Adriatic if you're captivated by the bold blue of the sky meeting the sea. Take a hike down the love path for more splendid and quaint views.

Vrbnik is a wonderful choice if you wish to taste exquisite local wine, or if you're so inclined visit the village of Rudine and head to the cave of Biserujka.

There are endless opportunities for dining, but we'd recommend Nada for classic Croatia dishes, an ample bar, and views for days.

You might have noticed that a key selling point of Krk is its ample beaches. Regardless of whether you seek sand, rocky outcrops, busy beaches where you can socialise or more secluded coves, you'll find it all on the island. Access to a car means you can tick off as many as you like – create your own beach bucket list.

What we love

- On this elegant island, it's wonderful to return to the beautiful simplicity of your villa. With three apartments, you can convene as a group or enjoy your privacy. It's perfect for both.
- Grab a car and drive around the island. It's the best way to get about and see as much as you can. The island is large and packed with things to do.
- There are plenty of restaurants nearby, nothing better than dinner overlooking the Adriatic with a glass of wine!

What you should know...

- Although Krk is an island, it's one of Croatia's largest. Make sure you know what you want to do on the island and if you want to visit the mainland, so you make the most of your trip.
- Bring some local currency with you so that you can get by in the more rural areas.
- A car is recommended but you can get around using buses and taxis. Otherwise there is no public transport.
