Location & Local Information

Costa de la Luz is a highly sought-after tourist destination, filled with bustling attractions and intoxicating culture. If you are looking to immerse yourself in this region's decadent history, the Royal Andalusian School of Equestrian Art is a perfect place to visit. Translated as the Royal Andalusian School of Equestrian Art Foundation, this establishment focuses on the beautiful art of horse dancing, presenting a wealth of shows, presentations, and memorabilia. Guests can uncover more about this alluring art form and how it has impacted the grandiose legacy of this area. Located in the stunning city of Jerez de la Frontera, just an hour's drive away, make sure to stop to also stop off at some of the quaint pueblos blancos ('white villages') on the way, such as Vejer de la Frontera. Known for their white-washed walls, they are a symbol of Andalusia and a must-see whilst you're visiting the region!

The major tourist attractions of the wider region, besides the many white towns and villages, can be found in Cadiz, the main city of Costa de la Luz. There you'll find the fascinating Torre Tavira, an eighteenth-century watchtower at the highest point in the city, which features Spain's first-ever camera obscura. There is also the immense Catedral de Cadiz with its impressive gold dome and, for the foodies, the Mercado Central (Central Market), famous for some of the freshest seafood in all of Spain.

The Central Market is a very popular landmark that operates directly in the centre of Costa de la Luz. Here, guests will discover an abundance of fresh produce, including aromatic herbs and wild asparagus, as well as a collection of local wines. Therefore, guests can purchase a collection of ingredients that they can use in their own cooking back at Casa Cueva Lujo. Moreover, this market offers a selection of fresh snails, providing guests with a true collection of European delicacies. If you are looking to purchase some of the handmade furniture showcased here, a majority of vendors will work to ship it internationally to your home.

Make sure to also visit some of the beautiful beaches of this area! Bolonia is closeby to the villa and features soft, golden sand and views of Morocco from across the blue waters. If you'd prefer to visit a less-secluded beach, drive about 20 minutes to the town of Tarifa, which boasts the southernmost point of continental Europe and some equally gorgeous beaches.
