

Eskdale Place

Region: Yorkshire Sleeps: 6

Overview

A welcoming holiday home with rustic charm and enviable views of the stunning Yorkshire moors. Hunker down with a book on the comfy sofas or enjoy an al fresco meal on the terrace overlooking the lush green landscape to create a truly memorable holiday for up to six guests.

Eskdale Place is the perfect rural retreat with wood beamed ceilings, tartan sofas and luxury touches. The open plan kitchen, living, dining area is the perfect place to cosy down by the fireplace after a day of walking the moors. Patio doors lead to the property's balcony area with outdoor dining furniture that overlook the stunning local scenery, breathe in the fresh countryside air and feel yourself unwind over a family meal with a view.

On rainier days, the property has a six-seater wood dining table with feature lighting, a great place to share an English Breakfast in the morning. The well-equipped kitchen has all you need to cater for your group including a dishwasher and a convenient washer/dryer.

Keeping the home-like décor theme, you will find a fantastic super king master bedroom with free-standing bath, a wonderful place to luxuriate amongst the bubbles and the perfect way to start the day. This room also has an en-suite with WC. A further double room with en-suite and twin room complete the sleeping accommodation, with an additional WC. All bedrooms have bed linen and towels included and families are well catered for with travel cot and highchairs available.

Eskdale Place is a dream space whatever the season, with cosy interiors for hot chocolate and relaxation and a fantastic outdoor space, where guests can fire up the BBQ and make a delicious summer lunch whilst looking out over the moors. With bike storage included, keen cyclists, walkers and outdoor fans will find themselves in heaven just a stone's throw from the famous town of Whitby and the surrounding beauty of the North York moors.

Location & Local Information

Famous for its fish and chips Whitby is the perfect town for sampling all the seaside has to offer. Join the queue at The Magpie Café for a delicious serving of haddock and chips, well worth the wait or take a short trip to Sandsend to the dreamy Fish Cottage, a great spot with quaint outdoor seating and a range of locally sourced seafood dishes from monkfish satay skewers to Fish Cottage tacos.

Following on the seaside theme why not head to the harbour to take a fishing trip to catch your own! Or if you wish to stay on land head to the Captain Cook Memorial Museum housed in the harbour, where you can learn all about the famous Captain's ships from Endeavour to Discovery, all built in Whitby. The Whitby Museum also covers the town's whaling and shipping history, where little ones will be fascinated by the giant marine fossils on display.

Keen walkers are spoilt for choice with a range of bike and cycle trails to get out and explore the beautiful local area. Take a stroll on the clifftops along the Cleveland Way National Trust that run from Robin Hood's Bay to Staithes. Or take a train to Grosmont and walk the final section of the Esk Valley Walk back to Whitby following the "leaping salmon" trail signs.

Not to be missed are the spectacular coastal views to be found on the Cinder Track bike trail. Running along the old railway line you will experience four miles of stunning seaside scenery including the 13 arches of the Larpool Viaduct. Bikes can be hired at Trailways at Hawkser.

Founded in 7th Century AD, the famous Whitby Abbey is well worth a visit, known as the place, where Easter's dates were agreed between Roman and Celtic churches. The ruins and museum display over 3000 years of history and dramatic displays. Fans of the gothic will be thrilled and chilled by the Dracula Experience and Dracula rooms, celebrating the town's influence on Bram Stoker's most famous character. The town is host to a twice-yearly Goth Weekend, celebrating the wonderful underworld of Goth subculture.
