Location & Local Information

Villa Vista Cies is located in the pretty Rias Baixas region of Spain, an area famous for its fine wines and beautiful sandy beaches - the ideal holiday combo! This beautiful coastal area is the ideal destination for holidaymakers looking to unwind and relax and filled with many quaint fishing villages dotted along the coast.

Nearby to the villa is Cangas, a town bursting with historical and artistic heritage, and offers visitors a wide range of activities to enjoy, including coastal walking trails and tours of the town's old quarter. Cangas is famous for its delicious seafood dishes, and you'll find plenty of food and wine tours in the region where you'll have the chance to sample the local culinary offerings paired with delicious regional wines.

You'll find one of the best examples of Renaissance architecture here in the town; the beautiful Church of Santiago de Cangas and Cies Isles, as well as the fountain and statue, along with plenty of elegant 19th and early 20th century houses dotted along the promenade. Fishing plays a huge part in the town's history, and we recommend heading to the fish auction house of Cangas during your stay, where most of the fish and seafood from the Atlantic coast are auctioned off to local markets and restaurants - you may even be able to grab something fresh and delicious to grill up back at the villa!

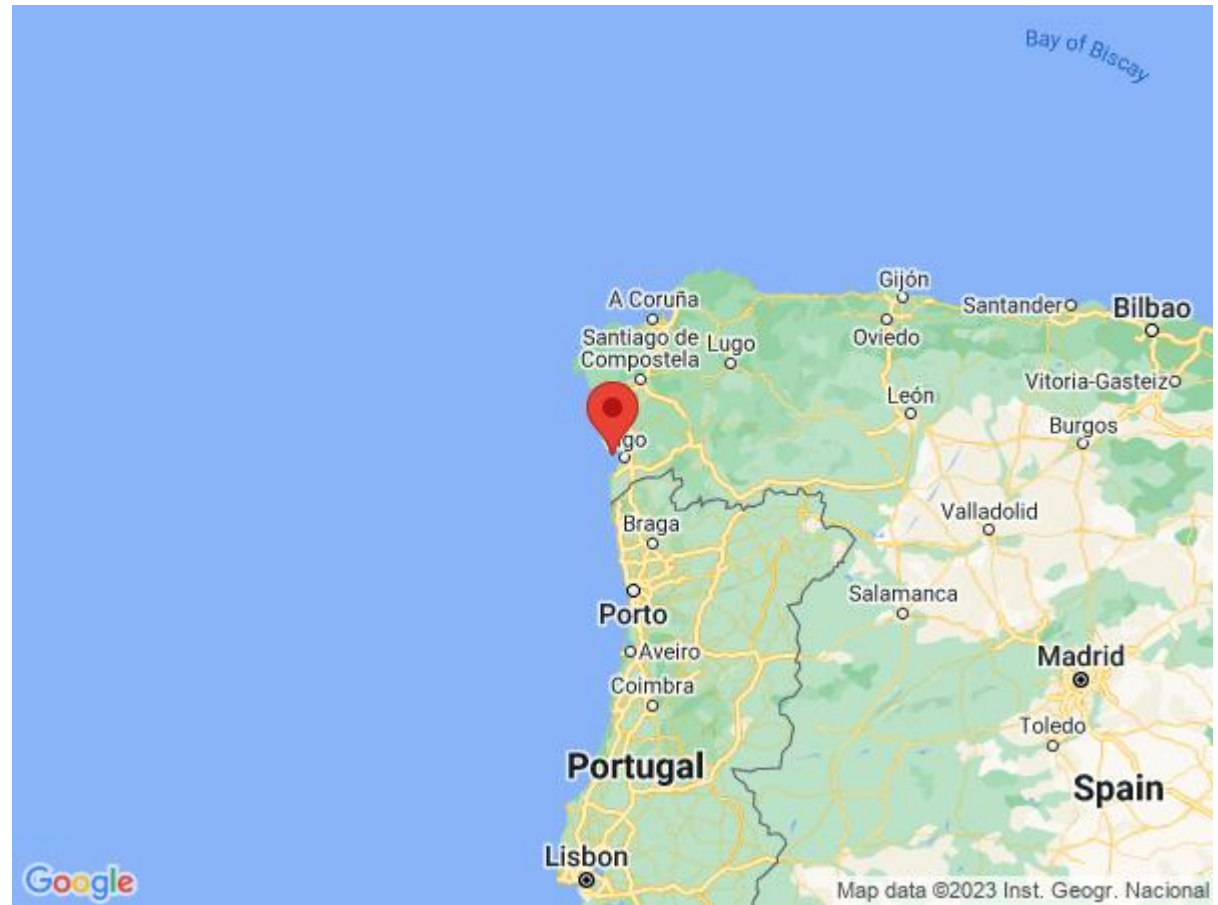

Afterwards, why not head to the Old Masso Factory, one of the most important places in the town, which is famous for its canning and fishing history, and which once employed over a thousand local people.

As you head along the coast, you'll come to the popular Limens beach, featuring picturesque views, clear and calm turquoise waters, and fine white sand. Although this beautiful sandy stretch can get quite crowded during the summer months, its stunning good looks and a wide array of amenities make it a great choice for families, with good parking facilities, easy accessibility, beachside restaurants and toilets. In addition to swimming and sunbathing, visitors here can enjoy a variety of watersports, including surfing and kayaking.
