Location & Local Information

Villa Damia is based just 15 minutes away from the centre of Formentera, offering guests prime access to a collection of stunning tourist attractions. This region is often commended for its sapphire blue waters, but they are also hiding something incredibly special. The Don Pedro is a vast cargo ship that stretches over 140 metres long. This ship has been buried for many years but still holds some of its original structures and fixtures. In turn, guests are encouraged to become familiar with an array of scuba diving equipment and travel down to the alluring depths of the sea floor. A majority of these underwater tours are carried out by Vellmari, a prized scuba diving establishment that is located around 10 minutes away from the villa.

One of the area's most significant attractions is Cap de Barbaria, which can be found around 10 minutes away from Villa Damia. This looming lighthouse is decorated in a signature white-washed style, making it a truly unmissable attraction throughout the region. Sitting 110 metres above sea level, you will be pleasantly surprised by its incredible presence throughout this rugged landscape. Many keen photographers will recognise this monument from Julio Medem's iconic film Lucia y el Sexo. As such, this is a great place to visit if you are looking to uncover the admirable nuances of some of the world's most popular films. Once you have marvelled at its exterior, be sure to take the short journey toward the top of the landmark and bask in the series of awe-inspiring panoramic views that sit below.

If you are looking to truly soak up this bustling local culture, a trip to the Sant Francesc Xavier market is a must-do activity. This market is filled to the brim with artisan art pieces and designer garments, helping it to stand out from some of the other flea markets seen throughout this area. As a result, this is also an ideal place to visit if you wish to pick up an unusual souvenir to show off back home. The Sant Francesc Xavier Market is situated just under half an hour away from the villa and occurs every Saturday from 11 am to 2 pm.
