Alongside its tremendous selection of landmarks, this region is also commended for its transformative food scene. One of the area's most popular cuisines is seafood, allowing guests to experience a range of fresh and locally sourced dishes throughout their holiday. Peix Sec de Formentera is a native delicacy that makes good use of large pieces of skate that have been hung on some of the many Sabina trees found throughout this area. As such, this dried fish is a perfect menu item for those looking to leap out of their comfort zones and try something new.

If you are looking to embark on a truly mesmerising underwater experience during your time on holiday, a trip to The Don Pedro Wreck is a must-do activity. This inviting cargo ship stretches an impressive 140 metres long and is not surrounded by alluring rock formations and coral. Guests will be given a full safety briefing as well as a range of specialist equipment to help them observe this monument in a more intimate and detailed way. These scuba diving tours are conducted by Vellmari, which is situated around 15 minutes away from the villa.
