Location & Local Information

If you are looking for a base for your Sicilian escape, with a charming town centre and sun-drenched beaches on your doorstep, then Villa Piccioli in the seaside town of San Vito Lo Capo is a delightful choice. Within 1.5km of the home, there are several beaches, shops, restaurants and bars.

Sitting below the vast mountain, the town of San Vito Lo Capo is a lovely place with everything you could need on a relaxing break. The main attraction here is, of course, the long sandy beach with clear, turquoise water. The beach is easily accessed from the town and has free sections as well as beach clubs with sun loungers and umbrellas for hire. This beach is just one of many near the home, and you can find even more a short drive away. Cala Mancina (4km away), Cala Rossa (5km away), and Lido Acqua Azzura (10km away) are just some of the beaches you can spend the day at. In addition to these serviced beaches with sun beds and eateries nearby, you can also discover unspoilt coves at local nature reserves and protected parklands.

This area is packed with parks such as Riserva Naturale dello Zingaro, 10km away, or Riserva Naturale Orientata Monte Cofano, 22km away. Riserva Naturale dello Zingaro is a picturesque place to enjoy walks and lengthy hikes through pine forests and native flora and follow breathtaking coastal trails. The park also has pristine beaches with ideal spots for a peaceful swim or snorkelling. Riserva Naturale Orientata Monte Cofano is the place to hike up Monte Cofano. This is known as Sicily's most beautiful hike as you ascend the peak via coastal and mountainous landscape to find the most incredible views at the top. Close to the park boundary, you can also visit Mangiapane Cave, a fantastic cave filled uniquely with the buildings of a 19th-century village. These dwellings have been perfectly preserved so visitors can experience how the farmers and shepherds who once lived here spent their days.

Not only can you find this incredible range of beaches, vast parklands and mountains near the villa, but you can also discover San Vito Lo Capo town centre, which is 1.5km away. The town has a vibrant yet historic centre with pretty streets. Some key attractions include the 15th-century Santuario di San Vito and the nearby 17th-century watchtower. The town also has plenty of shops, restaurants, cafes and beach-side bars, so you will have lots to keep you busy.
