Location & Local Information

Located on the left bank of the stunning River Seine, you'll find Apartment Maelys in the city's vibrant Latin Quarter. The ideal spot for a young couple itching to experience the authentic Parisian lifestyle, you're bound to be charmed by the area's bohemian atmosphere and friendly vibe. History buffs and art lovers will be keen to visit historical buildings such as the Pantheon, a neoclassical building with an astonishing dome associated with iconic French figures, including Voltaire and Rousseau. The area is also home to the world-famous and prestigious Sorbonne University, boasting a rich history and stunning architecture that you won't want to miss.

Offering a peaceful retreat from the bustling town, you should pay a visit to the Luxembourg Gardens, a serene park spanning over 60 acres and featuring a gorgeous garden, splendid fountains and a large pond. There is simply something for everyone in your eclectic neighbourhood, whether that's a gentle wander through nature with a coffee and pastry or a morning of learning and sightseeing at a local museum. If you fancy a bite to eat after a busy day, be sure to head to Rue Mouffetard, a lively street boasting a variety of food shops and restaurants.

The metro is by far the easiest and most efficient way to explore the city, and you are within walking distance of public transport. Venturing out of your local neighbourhood, you might want to visit the trendy neighbourhood of Saint-Germain-des-Prés, particularly if you're an academic or history lover! This was once the home of Paris's intellectual life and many famous French philosophers. Today, you can visit many cosy cafes and haute-couture boutiques if you fancy a spot of shopping! The historic charm of your nearby neighbourhoods almost mirrors that of your apartment itself, and you'll also experience this if you visit Le Marais. Home to many museums and galleries, including the Musée Picasso and the Musée Carnavalet, art lovers will be in paradise.

While there are endless attractions to visit in the City of Lights, the best way to absorb the Parisian spirit is to wander around leisurely, taking in the sights as you go. Whether that's chilling in a cosy café with a hot chocolate, wandering around a park with a delicious French pastry, or browsing around the incredible department store of Galeries Lafayette, there simply isn't one list of 'must-see' attractions as the charm of this city resonates in every corner, street, building and tradition. Suppose this is your second or third visit to Paris. In that case, you might want to plan a more specific itinerary, for example, more culinary-related experiences for the foodies or a cultural tour of galleries and museums for the history enthusiasts.

However, if you're lucky enough to stay in Apartment Maelys for your first-ever trip to Paris, there are some unmissable sights to tick off your bucket list. The Louvre Museum, one of the most prestigious in the world, contains thousands of artworks and historical treasures. You may be overwhelmed by the sheer vastness of this magnificent place, so we recommend a stroll around the Louvre Courtyard or the charming Tuileries gardens if you're feeling a little exhausted! Finally, no first-timer's trip to Paris would be complete without a glimpse of the Eiffel Tower. You certainly don't have to climb it to get the full experience. Be mesmerised as you watch it twinkling in the dark from one of the city's many picturesque bridges, savouring these unmissable moments with your family or significant other.
