Location & Local Information

Villa Maresia is based just over 15 minutes away from the centre of Antigua, giving guests the prime opportunity to experience everything that this atmospheric region has to offer. If you consider yourself an avid foodie, a trip to the Majorero Cheese Museum is a real treat. This establishment focuses on cheese sourced from the majorera goat, which tends to be much more dense and aromatic compared to its competitors. During their time at this museum, guests will be encouraged to examine every element of this alluring process. Thus, this is an exceptional experience for anyone looking to expand their understanding of how this crucial ingredient is prepared on a daily basis. The Majorero Cheese Museum is located just under 20 minutes away from the villa.

One of the most popular attractions within this region is Fuerteventura Golf Course, which can be found around 5 minutes away from Villa Maresia. This expansive 18-hole course is equipped with a premium selection of greenways and bunkers, making it a challenging course for even the most experienced of players. Alongside its complexity, this attraction is also well recognised for the plethora of idyllic landscapes that surround it. In turn, guests now have the chance to revel in an exciting game of golf as they continue to immerse themselves in the stunning sights that surround them.

Caleta de Fuste Castle was first constructed in the 18th century as an intuitive way to protect the surrounding areas from vicious pirate attacks. Due to its circular structure and rich volcanic rock, it quickly became a keen asset to the area's strict military operations. Guests can also travel inside the castle and marvel at its intricacies, such as its vast dome and looming pillars. In fact, the castle also declared a Property of Cultural Interest back in 1949, signifying its legacy across the area. Thus, this is a great landmark to visit if you are looking to embark on a sightseeing tour with a twist. Caleta de Fuste Castle is situated just a stone's throw away from the villa.
