

Palacio de Figueras

Region: Asturias Sleeps: 22

Overview

Standing proud above the Eo estuary (or Ribadeo if you're Galician!), this magnificent 16th-century property has been carefully restored to create a wonderful setting to host unique events or relax with family and friends and enjoy the surrounding countryside of the beautiful Asturias region.

Once home to the Pardo de Donlebún family, Palacio de Figueras enjoys a secluded position, enclosed by landscaped gardens with glorious flower beds and tall leafy trees. Declared an Asset of Cultural Interest, the building offers a timeless beauty and has been brought back to life with ancient techniques and sensitive interventions that preserve the character and history of the property whilst creating a more modern interior layout. Comprising a central tower and two crenelated wings, the internal spaces have been well-designed with multiple living areas where guests can relax in comfort and enjoy the unique setting.

Arranged over three floors, the spacious rooms are elegantly decorated with beautiful wooden floors throughout and exposed timber beams. Large stone fireplaces echo the solid exterior walls, whilst stylish furniture offers a variety of comfortable spaces to relax with a book or share a drink with other guests. A beautiful orangery sits to one end of the ground floor, whilst the modern kitchen has been smartly decorated with designer features where you can watch a chef's demonstration or take a cookery class.

There are 11 suites in total, each offering its own charming personality with large double beds and tastefully finished bathrooms. Two palatial suites offer a luxurious experience, with the master bedroom extending to over 100m². Neutral-coloured furniture compliments the dark wood floors, whilst large windows bring in natural light and frame views out to the garden and grounds below. A central library area and living room break up the bedrooms, where guests can enjoy the common areas, whilst a terrace at one end of the first floor offers a lovely spot to sit outside and read or enjoy a coffee whilst looking over the surrounding hills.

A lovely garden area wraps around the property, with grass lawns and neatly maintained hedges offering a tranquil setting to enjoy a walk beneath the leafy trees or host an event and make the most of the special historical setting. The west side of the garden joins the marina and local fishermen's harbour, and the sloping landscape provides a wonderful view over the estuary below.

Location & Local Information

Situated on the hillside of the charming coastal town of Figueras, Palacio de Figueras enjoys a central position with wonderful views across the surrounding landscape, over the rolling hills and down to the fishing boats that dot the estuary.

A 20-minute walk from the property, the lovely Playa de Arnao is perfect for a swim, with its crescent of white sand and clear blue waters. Alternatively, hop in the car and explore the nearby coastline to discover the wild beaches and delightful little fishing villages. Just a 10-minute drive, Playa de Penarronda is a popular spot for surfers, where you can take a lesson or sit on the sand and watch the locals putting on a show. Taking its name from the elongated shell-shaped rock sitting in its centre, the beach has a unique beauty as well as a wonderful plant life that climbs up the dunes to the back of the sand.

The surrounding Asturias region is full of unspoiled countryside, with majestic mountains and wonderful valleys covered by dense forests and wonderful rivers that flow out to sea. Enjoy a gentle walk and discover the sublime scenery, or head to the Picos de Europa, where you can wander through the shaded groves packed with oak and beech trees or discover the impressive rock formations ingrained into the limestone mountains. There are a number of Information Centres where you can find out more about the area or find a trail and take a more challenging route to ascend to the peak and enjoy spectacular views.

Gijón is just over an hour by car, or take a day trip to the ancient capital city of Oviedo to uncover the delightful streets filled with historical monuments and churches. Visit the impressive Catedral de San Salvador and stop at the Camara Santa, a charming pre-Romanesque chapel dating back to the 8th century. Seek out some shade in the green oasis of Campo San Francisco, once a vegetable plot belonging to the San Francisco Convent or wander through the medieval quarter and enjoy its magical atmosphere. The Mercado El Fontán is filled with colourful stands, inviting you to stroll the rows of local produce and sample traditional Asturian specialities, such as regional cider or the popular cabrales – a blue-veined cheese made from a mixture of cow's, goat's and sheep's milk. There are a number of restaurants nearby where you can share plates of tapas or enjoy a hearty fish stew or a plate of fabada asturiana, a flavoursome dish made from white beans and Asturian sausage.
