Location & Local Information

Honey Meadow is located in the small rural area of Castlelyons, in County Cork, in southern Ireland. It is situated about eight kilometres northeast of the city of Cork and is surrounded by beautiful countryside, rolling hills, and picturesque farms.

Surrounded by 80 acres of beautiful gardens, woodlands and parkland, the setting is peaceful and secluded, perfect for guests looking to relax and unwind. There are also several lakes on the property, which are home to various wildlife.

One of the unique features of Honey Meadow is its on-site distillery, where guests can learn about the process of making gin and enjoy a tasting. The house produces Bertha's Revenge Irish Milk Gin, a unique and delicious gin that has won numerous awards.

The area is known for its natural beauty, with many hiking and walking trails offering stunning views of the surrounding landscape. Ballyvolane is a quiet, residential area with a few local shops and pubs. The area is peaceful and scenic, offering a glimpse into rural life in Ireland while still being close to the amenities of a larger city.

Cork is a vibrant and historic city; it is the second-largest city in the country after Dublin and is the largest city in the province of Munster. The city is built on the river Lee, which divides it into two parts: the city centre and the suburbs. Cork is known for its rich history and culture, which is evident in its many museums, galleries, and historic buildings. Some of the city's most popular attractions include the Cork City Gaol, a former prison that now serves as a museum; the English Market, a covered food market that dates back to the 18th century; and the Crawford Art Gallery, which houses a collection of contemporary and classical art.

Blending history, culture and nature, this vibrant area of Ireland is a great choice for your holiday or event! An ideal base for a celebration and a chance to explore the beauty of Ireland.
