Location & Local Information

Can Asarama is based just under 15 minutes drive from the centre of Pollensa, allowing guests to explore everything this insightful region offers. For those travelling to this area in November, you must take the time to visit La Fira. This event acts as a traditional trade fair and has been taking place regularly since the 18th century. During this festival, you will have the prime opportunity to browse a wealth of handmade woven goods, such as bags and hats. Thus, this is a perfect way to discover more about this region's history from a more personal and intimate perspective. La Fira usually takes place just a 10-minute drive from the villa and often occurs on the fourth Sunday after Saint Lucas, which is usually the second Sunday in November.

Formentor Lighthouse is a profoundly integral landmark that can be found around an hour away from Can Asarama. First constructed in 1863, this lighthouse stretches 210 metres above sea level and is mainly used to direct small fishing boats away from the tremendously sharp rocks that can often be found at the base of the shore. This landmark is also regarded as a keen source of creative inspiration, with prolific figures like Jose Hierro and Carlos Fuentes commending its beauty. As such, guests are encouraged to take the short drive towards the monument's peak and bask in the amazing sights as they travel through.

For those looking to uncover the nuances of this region from an entirely different perspective, a trip to Alzinaret Caves is a must-do activity. These caves were initially discovered in 1927, but many experts state that they date all the way back to 1600 BC. In turn, this is an unmissable landmark for anyone looking to get a closer look at a range of artefacts from the Middle Bronze Age. There is also a wide collection of caves to discover, offering guests the chance to enjoy a packed day out. If you are uncomfortable entering the caves, a collection of benches can be found outside the structures. Alzinaret Caves are situated around 20 minutes away from the villa.
