Location & Local Information

Coral Grenadine is situated on the beautiful island of Bequia (pronounced Beckway), sixty miles north of St. Lucia and nine miles from its 'parent' island, St. Vincent. The island is considered something of a hidden gem in the Caribbean, where life moves at a slow, luxurious pace, enjoying a casual, beachy vibe. Here guests can enjoy white sandy beaches, swaying palms, and main streets lined with colourful shops and restaurants serving up fresh, local cuisine - as well as some familiar family favourites!

On this small, idyllic island, you'll feel transported to another world where you're never far from a sandy beach, a quaint town or somewhere to enjoy something wonderful to eat and drink. Oliver recommends visiting the main town of Port Elizabeth during your stay, a welcoming spot where you'll find a colourful fruit and veg market, shops, and restaurants - including the 'world's prettiest Pizza Hut'. Here you'll be able to enjoy one of the Caribbean's most scenic walks along the waterfront Belmont Walkway to Princess Margaret Beach. This fifteen-minute stroll is 'doable' for all ages, so slap some sunscreen on the kids and watch the boats bob on the harbour as you head along the powdery sands to Jack's Beach Bar, where you can enjoy all-day beach chair rental and a popular local dish - crisp-fried ballyhoo (a sardine-like fish).

If you're looking for unique souvenirs, be sure to browse the stalls and stores along Port Elizabeth's front street, where you'll discover iconic Bequia bring-backs such as boats carved from coconut husks and jewellery made from whalebone. The island is famous for its whaling heritage, and it's one of only a few places where the practice continues, with a limited number caught each year. To find out more, as well as the boat-building that the island is known for, check out the boat museum and find out all about the practices which are still carried out here today using age-old non-mechanical methods.

If you have any keen hikers among you (and plenty of water and sun cream!), why not trek to Bequia's highest point of Ma Peggy's Rock? It's a 90-minute hike, but the views over Admiralty Bay towards Mustique, Petit Nevis and St. Vincent make it well worth it - be sure to have your camera handy!
