What we love

- Everything we needed was close by, but we were far enough away to feel like we were the centre of the world.
- Beautifully decorated. It felt like a home away from home.
- I can never get enough of opening the curtains to see those views every day. Just sublime.
- The cosiest, comfiest beds – we've never felt so well-rested.
- It was great to be able to ski out and in. We felt like we were in a James Bond film.

What you should know...

- The climate here is typically alpine which means it can fluctuate a lot. Be prepared for cold weather and pack warm clothing, including thermal layers and insulated jackets. Waterproof clothing is also handy, including waterproof footwear.
- If you don't own your own gear, or don't want to pack it, you can rent pretty much everything you need, including skies, snowboards, boots, helmets and poles from the local ski store.
- If you're travelling during peak season take some time to make a reservation if there are particular places you want to visit. The area is very popular.
