Location & Local Information

Villa Pamplemousse is located in the Luberon region of Provence, in a large wine-estate owned by a famous English filmmaker. The three closest airports are Avignon (29km), Marseille (68km) and Nîmes (80km) whilst Gare d'Avignon TGV (42km) is just under an hour away – direct trains from Paris Gare de Lyon take around 2 hours 40 minutes.

The wine estate consists of approximately thirty hectares of vines – the owners follow the traditional Provençal method of winegrowing with respect for the estate's biodiversity and they produce the wine in their modern cellar. The estate's shop and winery (a couple of minutes away on foot) is open seven days a week from June to September (closed Sundays and Mondays in low season) and a one-hour 'classic' wine tour and tasting is included in the villa rental.

There is a small Luberon village around 1.5km – a 20-minute walk along country roads (no pavement) or a short drive. Here you will find a boulangerie, a couple of restaurants and a small grocery store whilst there are larger supermarkets in Coustellet (6.5km), also home to a handful of artisan shops and a Sunday morning Farmer's market. The Lavender Museum is in Coustellet and you may pass the Musée de l'Huile d'Olive (3.5km) en route.

The incredible perched village of Oppède le Vieux (4km) is close by – it's like a step back in time as you explore its medieval centre and soak up its rich heritage whilst admiring the magnificent views all around. There are spectacular walks in and around the village – the hike up to Église Notre-Dame Dalidon is especially rewarding.

Other iconic villages of the Luberon include hilltop Ménerbes (3.5km), the place that inspired Peter Mayle's 'A Year in Provence', and red-hued Roussillon (17km), a village of extraordinary beauty and history. Visit lovely local markets in places such as artistic Gordes (12km) on a Tuesday morning and historic Apt (22km) on a Saturday morning looking out for regional specialities such as cherries, Cavaillon melons, candied fruit, olive oil, wine and, of course, lavender products.

L'Isle sur La Sorgue (17km) is famous for its Sunday morning market and brocante and it is a delightful Provençal town any day of the week with its waterways and antique stores. Fontaine-de-Vaucluse (17km) is a paradise for hiking enthusiasts and you will find canoeing and kayaking opportunities along the Sorgue. There are of course many wonderful walks and challenging hikes across the Luberon alongside cycling trails, mountain biking, horse-riding and rock-climbing.

Visit the UNESCO World Heritage sites of Avignon (37km), sample the wines of the Rhône valley in and around Châteauneuf-du-Pape (48km), follow Van Gogh's footsteps in Saint-Rémy-de-Provence (35km) or Arles (65km) and admire the landscapes that so inspired Cézanne near Aix-en-Provence (62km), just over an hour away by car.
