

Manoir D'Auge

Region: Normandy Sleeps: 10

Overview

Fall in love with this picture-perfect house in Normandy set in a beautiful garden with a heated swimming pool and apple orchard. In the Pays d'Auge countryside near Pont-l'Évêque, staying at Manoir D'Auge is a quintessential Normandy experience close to pretty villages, cider farms and markets, only half an hour from the Belle Époque seaside town of Deauville.

Having remained in the same family for generations, the owners are delighted to offer their gorgeous thatched cottage to up to 10 guests throughout the year. Manoir d'Auge is chic and stylish yet also exudes traditional warmth and comfort alongside plenty of contemporary touches. Relax in the salon with century-old wood beams, a large fireplace and a sumptuous corner sofa as well as Smart TV (Netflix and satellite channels) and high-end sound system. The country kitchen features an open fire for winter cooking alongside all the modern appliances you could wish to prepare delicious meals, perhaps to enjoy on the long terrace as summer arrives.

The charming ambience continues upstairs with five double bedrooms, four with queen-sized beds (one which can be split as a twin), all featuring phone chargers, TVs and good quality bedding and linen ensuring a restful sleep. Wake up in the morning to glorious garden or valley views.

It feels like the owners have thought of everything here. Cider, apple juice and other local products will be left out for your arrival, there's bottled water in the bedrooms and even an initial supply of kitchen basics and Nespresso capsules are provided. The French billiard room is another touch of elegance whilst there are board games and plenty of outdoor games for all ages (pétanque, badminton, swing ball etc).

The large sun-filled garden is an absolute joy. Savour your morning coffee on the outdoor sofa listening to birdsong, enjoy picnics beneath the shady trees and gather for al-fresco evening feasts on the long terrace overlooking summer roses, hydrangeas and the verdant lawn. The pétanque court and apple orchard add yet more French character whilst guests will also adore the seasonal swimming pool, set a little further down in the garden, fully-enclosed and heated in the summer months.

In the Calvados region of Normandy, there is so much to explore during your time in this captivating part of rural northern France. There is a small village just 2km away with a highly regarded restaurant serving home-made Normandy dishes whilst historic Liseux (8.5km) is home to more restaurants, shops and a lovely market on a Saturday morning for stocking up on local cheese, cider, seafood and more.

Follow the Route du Cidre as you discover idyllic villages such as Cambremer, Beaufour-Druval and Beuvron-en-Auge within a short drive, and visit nearby cider farms (also try calvados, perry and Pommeau). Pont-l'Évêque, less than 20 minutes away, is a paradise for gourmands with its cheese producers, food shops and Monday morning market showcasing one of Normandy's oldest and most famous cheeses.

Then there's the splendour of La Côte Fleurie including the French seaside town of Deauville, so loved by Parisians with its boutiques, high-end restaurants and iconic boardwalk. Soak up the historic magnificence of Honfleur and spend the day by the vast sandy beaches of Trouville-sur-Mer or Cabourg.

The D-Day landing beaches of Arromanches-les-Bains and Omaha are just over an hour away whilst the white-cliffs of Étretat are in the other direction, via the maritime city of Le Havre. After a busy day exploring, return to your authentic, high-end home in Normandy and truly appreciate its charming and characterful surroundings.

Location & Local Information

Set in a beautiful garden with an apple orchard, Manoir D'Auge is in the Calvados region of Normandy between Liseux and Pont-l'Évêque, only half an hour from the Belle Époque seaside town of Deauville.

Ferries arrive into Caen (50km) or Le Havre (52km) whilst Cherbourg and Dieppe are also worth considering, both around a 2-hour drive away. Saint-Gatien Airport (28km) has some international arrivals and the nearest train station is Liseux (9.5km) – trains from Paris Saint-Lazare to Liseux take 1 hour 50 minutes.

A small rural village is 2km away with a café, church and traditional restaurant serving home-made Normandy dishes according to the season – dine inside or on the pretty terrace. The nearest town is Liseux (8.5km) with restaurants, shops, historic churches, half-timbered houses and a wonderful market on a Saturday morning showcasing the best regional produce including plenty of cheese and cider. On a hill overlooking the town, admire the magnificence of Basilique Sainte-Thérèse de Lisieux – it somehow escaped major damage during the war.

Across the Pays d'Auge, there are so many pretty villages to visit, many along Normandy's Route du Cidre which passes through Cambremer, Beaufour-Druval and Beuvron-en-Auge (one of France's 'Plus Beaux Villages'), all within a 15 to 20-minute drive. Pop into local producers to try calvados, perry, cider and Pommeau - the owners recommend a highly regarded producer just a 5km drive away that has been creating apple and pear-based drinks for over a century.

Pont-l'Évêque (16.5km) is a paradise for keen gourmands thanks to its cheese producers, food shops and weekly market on a Monday morning. Look out for Pont-l'Évêque cheese, Camembert, Livarot, seafood, crème fraîche, calvados, cider alongside a wealth of seasonal delights.

You are also within easy reach of the many charming seaside resorts of La Côte Fleurie. Start off in Deauville (26km), so loved by Parisians with its excellent restaurants, boutiques, iconic boardwalk and Belle Époque architecture. Honfleur (33km) is famed for its historic harbour and handsome houses or soak up the joyful seaside ambience of Trouville-sur-Mer (29km) and Cabourg (32km).

Further afield in Normandy, the historic town of Bayeux (80km) is just over an hour away and the D-Day Normandy beaches of Arromanches-les-Bains (85km) and Omaha (99km) are a fascinating day out. In the other direction, cross over the impressive Pont de Normandie to explore the maritime city of
