

Chateau De Ruffiac

Region: Sarlat Sleeps: 16

Overview

You and your guests will feel like aristocracy in this stately 17th century chateau overlooking the Dordogne river. It has been painstakingly restored in the French renaissance style - whether you're reading in the library or wandering the 20-hectare park with private hiking paths, here your chateau holiday will recall the grandeur of old.

Luxe perks are readily available (maid service, on-site concierge, and a chef service, all at additional cost), so your only worries involve how to spend your family holiday. And you certainly have options; descend to the private pool in a green garden, walk just a few minutes to the banks of the river Dordogne, or explore the heights of the chateau's towers.

The Dordogne holds endless possibilities - boat cruises, hot-air ballooning, golf, canoeing and discovering the dozens of beautiful small towns. We recommend touring Sarlat-la-Canéda (15 km), where the Rue de la Republique is a medieval maze for pedestrians only. A culinary center, here you'll find foie gras and truffles, the region's specialties. Wine lovers will demand a day trip to Bergerac (90 km), the centre of the region's wine production. However you spend your days here, they'll be infused with the magic of the Dordogne.
